

RUMANIANS CROSS DANUBE TO MENACE MACKENSEN

World's Series Opens At Boston On Saturday

Berlin, Oct. 3.—(Via London).—Official announcement was made here today that Austro-German troops in Transylvania north of Fagaras had withdrawn before superior Rumanian forces.

London, Oct. 3.—Rumania's Nevojen, which the British had taken against the Central Powers in throwing a force across the Danube into Bulgaria is the outstanding feature in the current war news. Should this army prove to be of formidable size it will constitute a serious menace to Field Marshal Von Mackensen's left flank and might easily force his retirement from the present front south of the Constanta-Tebernava Railway. He already is being subjected to heavy pressure along this line by the Russians and Rumanians, presumably in connection with the flanking operation.

The latest statement from Sofia minimizes the importance of the Rumanian invasion, mentioning the invading force as consisting of "several battalions" conveyed across the river in boats between Rusechuk and Turtukai.

"Measures have been taken to attack this force," the official bulletin declares.

"In Macedonia where no else where in the eastern war theatre the Allies are pressing the offensive movements presumably being sent by the Central Powers from one field of activity to another, the tide of battle is fluctuating on both wings.

The Serbians appear to have gained the upper hand in the hilly Kaimakalan region. Sofia admits a Bulgarian retirement there and the French official report announces a new advance by the Serbians who have captured first line trenches and taken another Bulgarian battery.

Entente statements declare the Bulgarians were repulsed in the eastern end of the Macedonian front, in attacks on British positions east of the Struma. Sofia, however, reports the capture by Bulgarian forces east of the villages of Jenikoi and

The young lady across the way says the Russians have been taking so many Carpathians lately that she should think the problem of feeding them would be getting pretty serious.

MILK WAR SPREADS IN N. Y. RIOTING MARKS CAR STRIKE

GALLONS OF MILK WASTED

New York, Oct. 3.—The New York state farmers tightened their grip today on the milk supply and caused a further reduction in quantity supplied to this city. The farmers are holding back the production of their dairies to compel the big distributors to pay higher prices.

The milk war which originated with the organization of the Dairymen's League, has spread throughout the state. Reports from all parts of New York tell of thousands of gallons of milk spilled in combats between the dairymen and the employees of the distributors, the picketing of cross roads in dairy districts, farmers held up and beaten, and the establishment of cheese manufacturing to dispose of the surplus resulting from the withholding of New York City's supply.

Twenty deputies have been sworn in Dutchess county to prevent raids of farmers upon their neighbors to compel them to hold back their product. This followed an attack on one man who was severely beaten while the deputy sheriff who accompanied him was held a prisoner, tied to a tree. Blasted farmers are reported to be patrolling the roads in several counties up-state, seizing milk and dumping it. In some places the farmers are contributing funds to build co-operative creameries.

John D. Dillon, the state commissioner of foods and markets, who represents the league of farmers, estimates that not more than 25 percent of the normal amount of milk was shipped into New York City for use today. City distributors claimed they had received about sixty percent of the 2,500,000 gallons required daily. Thus far the shortage has not affected the city hospitals.

The health authorities early today made good their assertion that inspection rules would not be modified on account of the milk famine by refusing to admit ten thousand gallons from Newport, New York, on the ground that it was not pasteurized.

BULL MOOSE LEADER IS FOR WILSON

Denver, Colo., Oct. 3.—Holding that President Wilson's record is one that compels the support of all true progressives, Edward P. Costigan, the well known progressive leader of this state, announced today that he was for the re-election of the president.

Back To Nature—Lives In Cornfield

Warren, O., Oct. 3.—Sheriff Evan Thomas and Deputy P. J. Gillen, answering a hurry call to Fowler today, where it was reported a wild man was running at large, resulted in the capture of Sam Gorsulo. Gorsulo had gone back to nature and was subsisting on corn in a farmer's field and making his home in a corn shock. He had not shaved for several weeks, and the corn juice had caked on his beard, giving him the appearance of a wild man. Gorsulo had nothing to say other than he was "at home" in the corn field. He was locked up.

WANT TO OBSERVE THANKSGIVING DAY ON NOVEMBER 23

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 3.—A movement to place the next Thanksgiving Day on November 23 instead of November 30, was inaugurated here today by the Merchants' Association of Kansas City. A telegram, signed by the executive board of the organization, was sent to President Wilson requesting the earlier date. Messages to retail organizations in twenty of the larger cities also were sent asking them to take similar action. The merchants say the holiday falling as it does this year, on the last of the month, works a hardship both to them and to their customers, crowding all the Christmas business into three weeks.

PRICES OF FOODSTUFFS BREAK MANY RECORDS

Washington, Oct. 3.—Marked increase in the cost of living is shown in the rising tendency of prices of foodstuffs on October 1, reports of which are just being received at the Department of Agriculture from the principal cities of the country.

With flour selling at prices higher than at any time since the Civil War, due principally to the shortage of the wheat crop this year, the cost of potatoes has mounted for the same reason.

Meat prices continue to advance with prices being paid producers of meat animals showing almost 24 per cent over what was paid a year ago. Butter, eggs and cheese all are selling at higher prices for this time of the year than they were last year, and beans show an increase of more than seventy per cent over a year ago because of the short crop. Onions are more than fifty per cent higher and cabbage more than forty per cent higher.

Butter was selling about 12 per cent higher than a year ago; eggs were five cents a dozen higher; potatoes were selling 116 per cent higher than a year ago; cheese showed an increase in price of more than 32 per cent over a year ago; hogs were selling 25 per cent higher than a year ago; beef cattle more than 7 per cent higher; veal calves more than 10 per cent higher; sheep more than 8 per cent higher and lambs more than 10 per cent higher.

Ankle Is Troublesome Robert Quinn, son of Dr. William Quinn, who sprained his ankle in football practice, several days ago, has resumed his school work. He is still out of football practice but expects to be in the game Saturday.

POLICE ARE TAKEN OFF SUBWAY

New York, Oct. 3.—The board of aldermen of Mount Vernon today paved the way for the resumption of street railway traffic in Westchester county cities included in the local car strike by amending the ordinance which prohibited the traction company, a subsidiary of the Third Avenue system, from employing strike breakers.

Similar ordinances have prevented the free operation of cars in the cities of Yonkers and New Rochelle. It is understood that the board of aldermen of these municipalities will follow the example set by Mount Vernon.

Violence again broke out here today simultaneously with the police department announcement (Continued On Page Six)

NATIONAL COMMISSION ARRANGES FOR GAMES; 2ND CONTEST IN BOSTON

New York, Oct. 3.—At a meeting of the National Commission here today it was decided to play the first game of the World's Series on Saturday, October 7, at the Boston National League Club's field.

The second game will also be played on the Boston field Monday, October 9; the third and fourth games to be played in Brooklyn or Philadelphia, after the National League race is decided, on Tuesday and Wednesday, October 10 and 11.

If the series goes beyond four games the fifth game will be played in Boston Thursday, October 12; the sixth in Philadelphia or Brooklyn Friday, October 13, and the place for playing the seventh will be decided by the toss of a coin.

In case of a tie game or a postponement the clubs will remain in the city until such game is played off. The umpires for the series will not be announced until after the pennant winner in the National League is decided.

The official scorers for the series will be J. G. Taylor-Spink, appointed by the National Commission, and one member of the base ball writers association to be selected by the local branch in each of the competing cities. The National Commission, its business representatives, umpires, official scorers and owners of the competing clubs will hold a preliminary meeting in Boston, Friday, October 6, at 3 p. m. for special instructions to officials and club owners.

The prices of admission follows: At Boston—Box seats, $5; grand stand, reserved seats, $3; first base pavilion, reserved, $2; third base pavilion, $1; bleachers, 50 cents.

At Philadelphia—Boxes $5; upper and lower grand stands, reserved, $3; right field pavilion, $2; bleachers, $1.

At Brooklyn—Boxes, $5; grand stand upper and lower sections, $3 and $5, according to location; pavilions, $2; bleachers, $1.

All application for press tickets for the World's Series must be made to Ralph McMillen, of the Boston Journal for Boston; to James Wolf, of the Philadelphia Inquirer, for Philadelphia; to A. Yager, of the Brooklyn Eagle, for Brooklyn.

The commission announced the eligible players as follows:

Boston Americans—W. F. Carrigan, manager; Agnew, Barry, Cady, Foster, Ganser, Gardner, Gregg, Hendricks, Hobbins, Hooper, Jannet, Jones, Leonard, Lewis, Mays, McNally, Ruth, Scott, Short, Shorten, Thomas, Wagner, Walker, Walsh and Wyckoff.

Brooklyn Nationals—W. Robinson, manager; Appleton, Cuthlow, Coombs, Cheney, Daubert, Dell, Getz, Johnston, Miller, Mails, Mayer, Merkle, Marquard, Meyers, Mowrey, Olson, O'Mara, Pfeiffer, Rucker, Smith, Stengel, Wheat.

Philadelphia Nationals—P. J. Moran, manager; Alexander, Adams, Baneroff, Burns, Niehoff, Stock, Bender, Byrne, Chalmers, Cooper, Oeschger, Whitely, Grayath, Dugay, Demaree, Good, Paskert, Killifer, Luderus, Mayer, McQuillan, Rixey.

Phillies Lose First Game

National League Park, Philadelphia, Oct. 3.—Boston defeated Philadelphia in the first game of today's double-header by the score of 6 to 3. Bunched hits by the Braves coupled with a cluster of errors by the Philadelphia's gave the visitors five runs in the seventh inning, more than enough

RAID MADE ON GERMAN AIRSHIP BASE

London, Oct. 3.—British naval aeroplanes yesterday made another attack on the German airship sheds in the vicinity of Brussels, according to a British official statement issued this afternoon. One of the British aeroplanes was lost.

PROHIBITION CAMPAIGNS ARE ON IN THE WEST
Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 3.—Speeches in three states were on today's program of the Prohibition campaign who are touring the west. They were to visit Lawtonville, and Atchison, Kas. St. Joseph, Mo., and Lincoln and Omaha, Neb. J. Frank Hanly, the presidential nominee, is showing signs of weariness. An effort is being made to induce him to speak less vigorously.

WOMAN INVENTS A SUBMARINE
Springfield, Ohio, October 3.—A model of a two-propeller submarine invented by Mrs. Anna Stanley, of Hamilton, is being exhibited here. The invention, it is stated, is being tested at Newport News, Virginia, by the government. Stanley served four years in the French navy and has operated submarines, although his wife is the inventive genius of the family.

CHARGED WITH WRITING POISON PEN LETTERS

Wellsville, O., Oct. 3.—Frank Race, 21, young farmer, is in jail here today on a charge of having written poison pen letters to Miss Ella Geisse, 20, daughter of a well to do family living at Beantown near here. Race is employed on an adjoining farm. Village officials who made the arrest on complaint of the girl, have in their possession a large number of letters which they charge Race wrote to her. They say these letters contain threats against the young woman in addition to threats to burn the home of her mother, Mrs. Park Geisse. The letters were lying on the door knob of the Geisse home, the officials say.

"What Will Happen After War" To Be G. O. P. Battle Cry

"What Will Happen After the War" was the battle-cry adopted by the Ohio Republicans for the November election, at a meeting of the chairmen and secretaries of the eighty-eight county organizations and the members of the State Central and Executive committees, held at Columbus, Monday.

D. Willard Gustin, secretary of the Scioto County Executive committee, stated Tuesday that the Columbus meeting was one of the most enthusiastic held by the Republicans for many years. "Everyone is alert and ready and working unceasingly and is confident of victory in November. Plans for the campaign were made and reports from the various parts of state were received."

"The feature of the whole meeting was the confidence displayed by those attending. We expect to carry the State of Ohio by a large majority for the entire Republican ticket from Mr. Charles E. Hughes down. "Addresses were given by Governor Frank B. Willis and Hon. Myron T. Herrick and several other well-known Republicans."

The general meeting at Columbus, Monday, will inaugurate the campaign in each county throughout the state. Headquarters will be opened and campaign literature distributed. Canvasses of the polls will be made. Speakers will be secured and busy scenes are to be enacted from day to day until the election in each county.

MEALS WILL FIT! NO INDIGESTION, GAS OR ACIDITY

Eat without fear of sourness, heartburn, belching or dyspepsia

The moment "Pape's Diapepsin" reaches the stomach all distress goes.

If your meals don't fit comfortably, or you feel bloated after eating and you believe it is the food which fills you; if what little you eat lays like a lump of lead on your stomach; if there is difficulty in breathing after eating; if eructations of sour, undigested food and acid, heartburn, burp or a belching of gas, you can make up your mind that you need something to stop food fermentation and cure indigestion.

To make every bite of food you eat aid in the nourishment and strength of your body, you must rid your stomach of poisons, excessive acid and stomach gas which sours your entire meal—interferes with digestion and causes so many sufferers of dyspepsia, sick headache, biliousness, constipation, griping, etc. Your case is no different—you are a stomach sufferer, though you may call it by some other name; your real and only trouble is that which you eat does not digest but quickly ferments and sours, producing almost any unhealthy condition.

A case of Pape's Diapepsin will cost fifty cents at any pharmacy here, and will convince any stomach sufferer five minutes after taking a single dose that fermentation and sour stomach is causing the misery of indigestion.

No matter if you call your trouble catarrh of the stomach, nervousness or gastritis, or by any other name—always remember that instant relief is waiting at any drug store the moment you decide to begin its use.

Pape's Diapepsin will regulate any out of order stomach within five minutes, and digest promptly, without any fuss or discomfort of any kind of food you eat.

YOUR SICK CHILD IS CONSTIPATED! LOOK AT TONGUE

Hurry, Mother! Remove Poisons From Little Stomach, Liver, Bowels.

Give "California Syrup of Figs" If Cross, Bilious or Feverish.

No matter what ails your child, a gentle, thorough laxative should always be the first treatment given.

If your little one is out-of-sorts, half-sick, isn't resting, eating and acting naturally—look, Mother! see if tongue is coated. This is a sure sign that its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with waste. When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad or has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, sore throat, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated poison, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

Mothers can rest easy after giving this harmless "fruit laxative," because it never fails to cleanse the little one's liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach and they dearly love its pleasant taste. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup company."

Woman Brandished Knife and Chased Her Opponent Into Saloon, Police Court News

After Lucinda Martin and "Black Agnes" Henderson had aired their differences in police court Tuesday morning Mayor Kaps fined the former the costs of $3.80 for threatening to assault "Black Agnes."

The two women had a run-in at Garner's restaurant on Eleventh street Monday night and Agnes told the court Lucinda suddenly flashed a knife and ran her over to the N. & W. depot and into a saloon. There had been feeling between the two for some time. Both were warned not to come into court again.

Philip Hatfield was the name given by a crippled beggar claiming Ashland, Ky., as his home and who was arrested at Third and Chillicothe streets Monday evening. He was given a $5 suspended fine and order to return to Ashland on a noon train.

Gus Kieth, a southern negro, employed on N. & W. work at Waverly, who was found helplessly drunk at Ninth and Gay streets was fined $5.

Ben Sheets, a Tygart, Ky., young man, was tried Monday evening on a charge of carrying a loaded revolver and found guilty. He was fined $200 and costs.

Other cases disposed of at the night session were the following: Richard Craycraft, drunk and disorderly, $10 fine, half suspended; Fred Craycraft, contempt of court $10 suspended; William Craycraft, drunk, $5; Russell Bird, disorderly conduct, $10 suspended; Mrs. Pennington, charged by Harvey Lambert with disorderly conduct, dismissed. A man giving the name of Frank Fleming, drunk $5 suspended.

Boy Scout News

Evangelicals Organize

The Evangelical Juniors met at Boy Scout headquarters last night, for the purpose of re-organizing for the coming season. Officers were elected as follows: Manager, Richard Anderson; Captain, Muller; Business Manager, H. W. Graf.

The team will probably take the field as follows: C. Mohl; R. G. Knost; L. G. Anderson; L. E. Muller; R. F. Lindemeyer. Last season, this team established a fine record, winning twenty-six out of twenty-eight games. It also came out in second place in the Boy Scout basketball tournament last fall.

East End Scout Meeting

The East End Boy Scouts met in social session last night at the home of Scout Corvin Knowles, 1917 Robinson avenue. A fine crowd of scouts were out, and all had an enjoyable evening. The chief feature of the evening's program was a very delightful Victrola concert. Mr. Kinsey gave a review of Second and First Class scout work, using the new questions recently adopted by the Local Court of Honor. Arrangements were made for the celebration of the troop's third anniversary.

Scout Executive In Cleveland. Scout Executive M. H. F. Kinsey left this morning for Cleveland, Toledo and other cities in Northern Ohio for the purpose of studying the scout work in these centers. He hopes to introduce many new features in the local scout work on his return.

No Trouble to Keep Skin Free From Hairs

(The Modern Beauty) There is no need for any woman to countenance superfluous hairs, because with a paste made by mixing some powdered delatone with water it is easy to get rid of them. The paste is applied for 2 to 3 minutes, then rubbed on and the skin washed. This treatment will rid the skin of hair without leaving a blemish, but care should be taken to see that you get real delatone.

Earl Rogers, a 14-year-old South Portsmouth boy was almost killed in trying to steal a ride on westbound second section of C. & O. freight train No. 99 in front of the Portsmouth Cap factory Monday afternoon.

The boy lost his hold and swung underneath a car but fortunately the engineer in charge of the train happened to be looking back at that moment and brought the train to a quick stop. The boy had been dragged a short distance. He had sustained an ugly scalp wound, sprained his wrist and had also received a severe cut on the knee which required several stitches to sew up. Dr. Pope Hunt, of Fullerton attended him.

Willis Opens Campaign Tour For Re-Election

(Special To Times)

Chardon, O., Oct. 3.—Governor Frank B. Willis opened his campaign for re-election Tuesday, touring Geauga county and addressing a large audience here this afternoon. He will speak in Burton tonight and will proceed on a tour which will take him into all parts of Ohio before election.

Governor Willis told Geauga county people how he had kept his promise to secure economy in state affairs, calling attention especially to the big saving which had been secured in rentals for state offices.

"Three state departments have been moved into the capitol building, saving $10,000 a year in rentals," said Gov. Willis.

"The state has bought a modern office building at a cost of $225,000 to house offices, the rentals for which have been $50,000 a year. My opponent former Governor Cox called attention to this expense but did nothing to reduce it except to propose to erect a state office building at a cost of a million dollars.

"We have accomplished the same purpose at one-fourth that expense and this building will be paid for by the saving in the operation of just one state department—the Department of Public Works."

THE GOLDEN TIDE

If you are fond of figuring you could make some interesting data by taking out your pencil and making calculations on the foreign trade of these United States. For instance, our exports for the first nine months of the year indicate the trade balance in our favor for 1916 will be two and a half billion dollars. How much does that make to every living soul in the country? How many miles high would be the pyramid that might be built of that many gold dollars piled on top of each other?

Contrary to general impression it is not munitions of war that make the volume of our exports, though, undeniably, the war has a great deal to do with the increase thereof. Wheat, corn and meat make an imposing bulk in the way of food supplies for man, but oats do not make a considerable showing when it comes to animal feed. A singular fact is that we should send such enormous consignments of meat to Europe and then turn around, as it were, and buy meat for our own consumption from Argentina, though nothing in comparison to what we ship out. It is the variety, quite as much as the volume, of foreign purchases that makes the trade so valuable, so effective in enhancing prosperity. For the reason that there is a unity of development along the whole line of productivity, a demand for every surplus. This demand does not come from Europe alone. There are many other countries than ours enjoying unwonted good times and they are making good customers for America, they are large and appreciated contributors to our agricultural and industrial welfare. China takes our cotton, Africa, Norway and Sweden, Spain, parts of Asia and all of South and Central America varied products. They all would take far more if we operated anything like adequate shipping facilities. Now more than ever is the commercial crime apparent that the United States has, ever since the imposition of a protective tariff, failed to encourage American ship building and owning. If there were but American ships to sail to peaceful port this country would be assured a continuous prosperity beside which the present would seem meagre. Appreciating this fact, the last congress passed a measure by which it is hoped to supply the mediums of transportation, but whether it will operate with sufficient rapidity to properly equip us by the end of the European war is problematical to hope the best of it.

Once in awhile a newspaper chirrup Herrick should be elected senator because he lost his job as minister to France. That raises the question: Didn't somebody lose his job when Herrick got the appointment to France and what was he elected to?

They couldn't make the act jump, so the Republican spellbinders have begun gnawing away at the eight-hour a day law in concert.

It hasn't been narrated yet, that any one has shouted at Candidate Hughes, "where did you get that hat" as a reminder of his decision in the Danbury matters case.

Somchow Karnival week seems to have got the habit of running into a bad spell of weather.

It is quite natural poor old Chillicothe should yellow with envy when she sees this Peerless young metropolis of the Scioto valley entertaining the envoy of the honorable president of Guatemala. And there was some entertaining, let us tell you.

If some diligent reporter were to gather up the receipts of the lunch stands he might give us some appreciation of the American appetite.

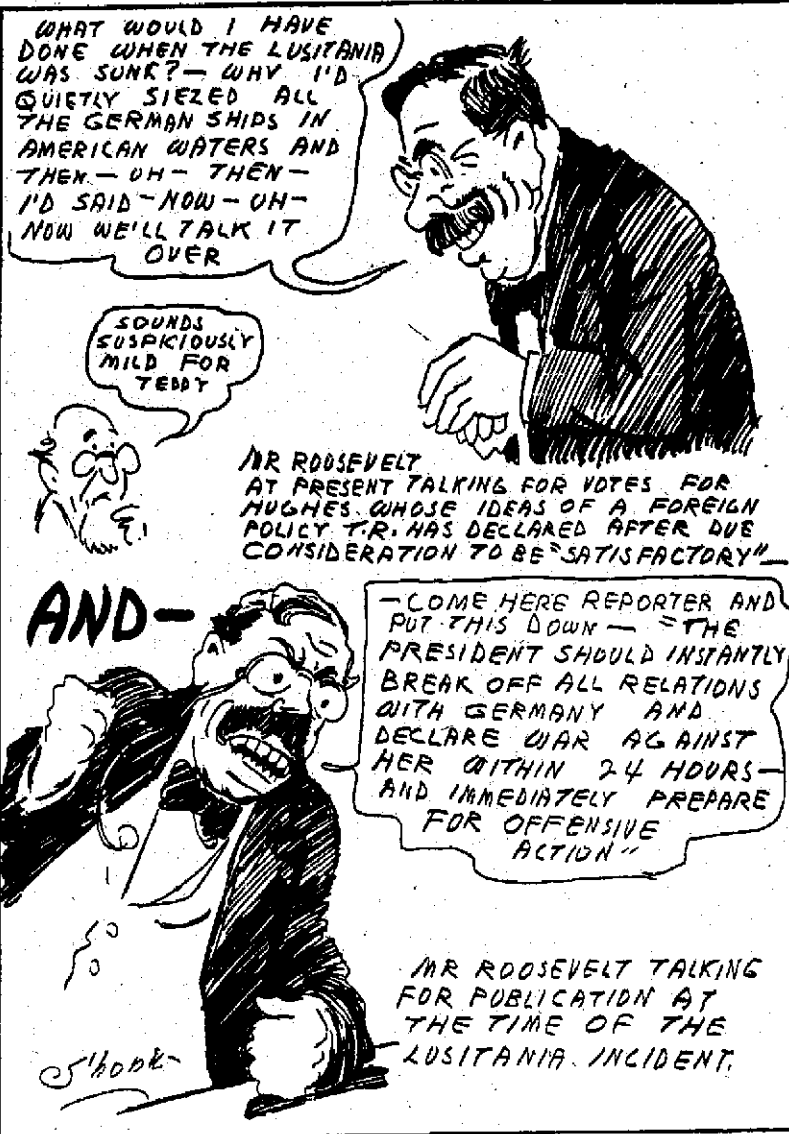

Nothing is lost by everybody going on a frolic. It may cause inconvenience at the time, but in the long run it is wholesome.

The boy who raised 400 pounds of potatoes from eight pound of seeds merely shows what Scioto county soil can do when it is treated earnestly.

The stump-speakers are a-stumping all around us, so we might just as well resign ourselves to the inevitable and look for them in our esteemed midst before long.

Austria seems to be of the kind that the longer it goes the better it grows. She is hearing her part in the conflict more creditably now than she did in the early stages.

Policeman Billy Brings A Friend

"He never know everybody in this whole country," remarked Father Beaver as he looked after Policeman Billy. "He didn't even have to stop and think who he might bring to our party!"

"I wonder what we ought to do?" asked Bushy thoughtfully. Of course he wanted to be polite, like his mother had taught him to be. But, dear me! when you're at a party and you have a nice piled-up plate of honey and berries, you don't want to wait all night for somebody who may be coming.

"I'll tell you what you may do, Bushy," said his mother, "you wait till the moon has passed that branch it is now behind. If Policeman Billy is not back by then, you may eat." So Bushy settled himself down to watch for the moon to peep out from behind that branch—he didn't intend to wait one second longer than he had to—not he!

But in no time at all Policeman Billy was back, and who do you suppose he brought with him? A gray squirrel! The prettiest, pleasantest little gray squirrel the beavers had ever seen. "Let me introduce you to my friend, Graytail," said Policeman Billy. "I told him you would like him to come to your party."

"Of course we do," replied Mother Beaver heartily. "We're just more than glad to have you here. Sit right down there," she motioned to the vacant place. "and Policeman Billy, you sit there where you started to sit before. Now, then, I guess we're ready to eat."

There wasn't much talking for a few minutes after that no-sireet! When the table is piled up with good so that when the food was all gone, the guests found their hunger gone at the same minute. That was lucky, wasn't it? Father Beaver wiped off the last trace of honey from his mouth, and as he did so, an idea occurred to him. Mother Beaver had thought of a party and it had been a success. Why shouldn't he think of something new and wonderful and surprise everyone? Well, why shouldn't he?

"To-morrow—Father Beaver's Idea

So Bushy settled himself down to watch for the moon to peep out from behind that branch

SECRETS OF COMFORT.

Though sometimes small evils, like invisible insects, inflict pain and a single hair may stop a vast machine, yet the chief secret of comfort lies in not suffering trifles to vex one and in prudently cultivating an undergrowth of small pleasures, since very few great ones, alas, are let on long leases.

as smooth as the floor in Mr. Townsend's ballroom at his hotel. And then all of a sudden the car slowed down, gave a few gasps like the stricken hero in a melodrama and became as silent as a New York rooster when the Giants are losing. "Something is wrong," remarked Mr. Townsend with rare powers of perception.

"Evidently," I said. "Perhaps it's the whoopiechoke"—this to be facetious.

And then Mr. Townsend slid under the car, pulled a couple of bell-ropes, screwed up the dingbat and loosened the whizzelwhaz. "It is all right now," he said with the air that Alexander must have assumed when he did his last bit of world conquering. "Jump in and we'll be off."

"We jumped in but we didn't budge. The reason was simple. The gasoline tank was dry and the nearest garage was four miles away and that wasn't such a tragedy, but Mr. Townsend felt like he should remain and look out after the car."

Fat girl ushers have been tabooed at New York theatres. The Shuberts have sent out the following notices to all the managers of their theatres: "In engaging ushers in the future, please eliminate all girls who are too big and heavy. You should have girls with trim figures. Appearance is almost as desirable as service."

The dance, "London Taps," which Vernon Castle introduced between dying in his aeroplane and drinking tea in London has brought forth a newspaper controversy as palpating as the question of just who it was that struck poor Billy Patterson.

A new dancing place, "Les Fleurs," put on the dance last week and claimed it as its own. Mrs. Evelyn Hubble, of Castle House, who just returned from London recently, claims that she introduced the dance at a party given by August Belmont on the Majestic roof early this summer.

Clifton Webb introduced the dance a "Les Fleurs" and Mrs. Hubble took him to task about it—and now all the dancers are watching on the sidelines. The dance is an interpolation of the fox trot and is executed by tapping the feet on the dancing floor for several measures while the music stops.

A crate of ducks were being driven down Fifth avenue the other afternoon. A militant duck would stick his head out of the crate to answer with stentorian quack the honk of an automobile on the other side of the street and the avenue was greatly amused.

NEW-YORK-DAY-BY-DAY.

O.O. MCINTYRE.

New York, Oct. 3.—It was an innocent looking car—dark green in color—and chock full of cylinders. Copeland Townsend, who owns it, lured me from my typewriter to bowl along the Westchester roads. I silently besought Providence to forget the Kaiser a little while and look out after us, and Mr. Townsend stepped on something and we were off like the crack of a gun. Generally when I go motoring there is an optimist in the party who tells all about the accidents he has had; how many chickens he has killed and then the owner remarks off-hand that he'll have to be getting a new car soon that this one is so hard to keep on the road; and to convince you he'll show you the play in the steering wheel.

But nothing like this happened with Mr. Townsend. The engine hummed rhythmically—or however it is that an engine hums when it hasn't a grouse—and the roads were

NOT GUILTY HERE

There are broad and generous assurances offered that no trust is responsible for the high price of meat. This ill, if we may so class it, is but another evil result of the war. An army fights on its stomach and the Allies, apparently, are prudent in seeing their soldiers have an ample stomach, at least the food to fill one, so they have bought and are buying plentiful supplies from this country. So far this year they have taken around a billion and a half pounds of beef, to say nothing of pork, which is thought to put a better stomach on a fighter than beef. This is ten times more than was sent to these countries in any one year prior to the war, and coupling this with the fact, that in five years the number of heads of cattle decreased by more than 27,000,000 it is easy to comprehend why beef soars.

They are still at it over in Europe, one side achieving overwhelming victories and the other administering crushing defeats. One thing is certain, neither can stand it forever.

THE BEGINNING OF AN ERA

The entering into a convention by the United States and Canada by which they mutual agree to protect wild fowl that migrate, according to the season, from one country to the other, is the first effective step to that altogether desirable end. The slaughter of birds has been ruthless and ruinous. Many species have become practically extinct and the rapidity with which all are being reduced in numbers, means certain extermination of the feathered tribe, if no early check be imposed.

Extirpation of wild birds is wanton and in most instances disastrous, because many of those slain are not used for food and their absence tends to the increase of the destructive of all sorts on insects that prey upon growing crops. Some statisticians estimate the damages done annually to vegetables, fruits and grain by insects amounts to $800,000. Probably, this is excessive, but anyway it gives an idea of the ravages of small pests, of which birds are the best of all destroyers. Recognizing this condition, appreciating the fact that bird also add to the gladness of existence quite every state has passed laws, that if enforced, would promote their preservation. We all know, however, that state statutes are too frequently non-enforced. Such has been the case with the bird laws. They have worked no appreciable benefit. The federal government, though, has a better way of seeing its laws are better kept and really much may be hoped for by the agreement with Canada.

We believe the Colonel is telling how he would have slaughtered 'em had he been president when the Lusitania was sunk, and incidentally ringing in something about preparedness. Let's look into that a bit. The British chief of ordnance says the most effective weapon the Allies have in offense is the Lewis gun. This gun was invented by a retired American officer, whose name it bears, and in 1910, was offered to the United States government for nothing. It was not only refused but condemned as of no value. The inventor then sold it to the British government. Who made the president and the administration of 1910?

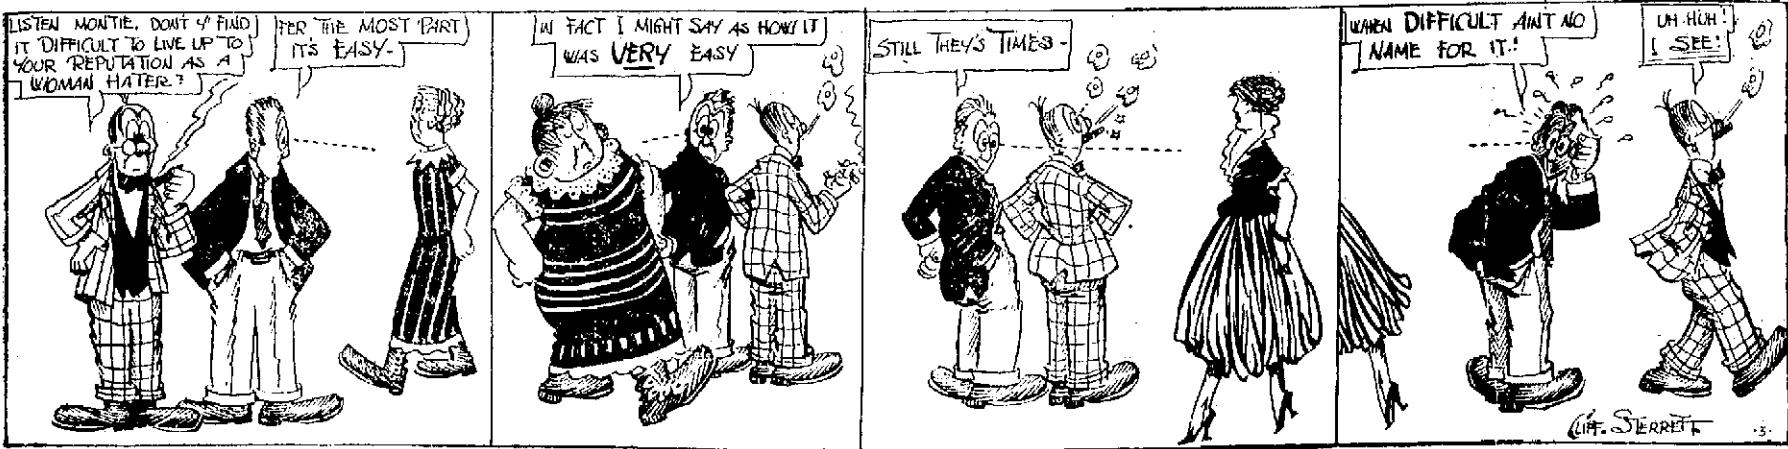

Pride must have its fall. Attorney Anderson tells this story: On one of the days that the Karnival was in full swing, he met, out on the Scioto Trail, an auto headed in the direction of Columbus. The occupants hailed him and asked him if he could tell where Portsmouth was. He told them the town lay two or three miles behind them. "Why, that's strange," said one, "we came on here from Sciotoville and we didn't see any thing that looked like a town."

By-the-way, there was a fair grape exhibit at the Karnival. Enough in quantity and quality to show they could be raised in Scioto county.

Grandma's Bonnet

Grandma used to wear a bonnet With but very little on it; Not a single peacock feather Flopped or fluttered in the weather. Five foot brims were not in order, Nor the hanging curtain border. Ostich plumes that cost full twenty Were not then so very plenty. Stuffed flamingoes, embossed parrots, Turnips renabagas, carrots, Grape and apple imitations, Were not used as decorations. Grandma's hat did not disguise her; You could always recognize her— So we dedicate this sonnet To the modest little bonnet.

Each succeeding generation Makes us love grandma's creation. Womn's hat keep growing bigger. And they cut more of a figure, Loved ones' faces, all concealing, Not an eye or nose revealing. Man can't pick his wife or cousin On the street out of a dozen. He is very oft mistaken And his nerves are badly shaken When he elevates his eady To some strange offended lady, And she glares about to him it Seems to be about the limit. Wife's new hat has too much on it. Ah, for that old grandma bonnet.—Exchange.

Some Maid, This

A Lakewood lady writes us a story about her maid. The story is too long to print, but we can't pass up the introduction. She says: "Alice is a jewel among maids. She is up and has all her work done and all the beds made before anybody else in the house arises."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

So We Learned Recently

It may be you have noticed that after meeting a great man you discover his reputation is three or four times greater than he is.

Disappating

She—"How pale the moon is!" He—"Yes; it's been out late for several nights."

Natural Supposition.

The kindergarten had been studying the wind all the week—its power, effects, etc.—until the subject was pretty well exhausted. To stimulate interest the kindergarten said in her most enthusiastic manner: "Children, as I came to school today in the trolley car the door opened and something came softly in and kissed me on the cheek. What do you think it was?"

And the children joyfully answered "The conductor!"—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

Surprised the Seer

The stranger was ushered into the society palmist's presence. "Ah, you wish my aid?" said the great seer.

"Well, madam," said the visitor. "In a way I do. You see, I've just—"

"Certainly. I know all about it. Just sit here. Ah, I see you have met with various disappointments lately."

"Quite true," interrupted the caller. "I wish! Let me go on. Something which you have written for and striven hard to get has eluded you time and again."

"Right you are," murmured the victim. "But patience. Your end will be attained in the near future. Success is yours."

"I'm sure I'm very glad to hear it, madam," said the subject, as he flourished a blue paper. "I've called five times with the gas bill. It's a good thing I'm to get it at last!"—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

Speaking of Cows

Switzerland has 796,909 cows.—Exchange. Which have (presumably) 769,909 tails, 1,593,818 horns, and 3,187,636 teats. We just date on animal statistics.—Gallipolis Tribune.

Hard To Find

Miss Smith was known to her boarders as being decidedly "near" in the portion of food she doled out to the ones at her table.

At dinner, the other night, wishing to be polite to a new boarder, she asked:

"How do you find the steak this evening, Mr. Finley?"

"By trying my potato over," replied the boarder quickly.—Exchange.

THE MARKETS

NEW YORK STOCKS

New York, Oct. 3.—For the greater part of today's session, the course of prices suggested further liquidation. This condition was largely overcome, however, in the activity and breadth of the final dealings.

Minor changes, mainly upward, prevailed at today's moderate opening, trading, however, embracing more than the usual number of issues. The more striking exceptions include American Locomotive, which rose two points, with advances of 1 to 2 in other equipments and Industrials, including Crucible Steel, General Electric, Industrial Alcohol and International Paper. Materials were slightly lower but the railway list gained fractions to over a point under the lead of Pacific and Northwestern issues. A firmer tendency was shown in all quarters before the end of the first half hour.

Industrials, equipments, and motors, together with equities and gas shares were conspicuous in the dealings of the forenoon, certain speculative favorites again reflecting bearish opposition. Steel yielded over a point, marines 1 to 2 and Studebaker, Republic Steel and some of the metals as much. General Motors made a new record on its nine point advance to 59 and secondary specialties were notably higher, with Pittsburgh coal and International Nickel. Rails were steadier than other standard stocks, the Canadian group extending initial advances, increased selling caused fresh irregularity at mid-day. Bonds were firm.

An active buying movement developed in final hour, the list advancing to best prices but ending on profit taking. The closing was strong.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

Chicago, Oct. 3.—Widening of the drought stricken region in Argentina with reports of crop losses becoming more and more severe, sent wheat soaring today to new high price levels for 1916. Opening prices, which ranged from 1c to 3 1/2c higher with December at 1 1/2c and May at 1 1/2c, were followed by moderate additional gains.

The close was firm 3/4c to 2 1/2c higher with December at 1 1/2c and May at 1 1/2c.

Corn rose 1/4c to 1 1/2c, wheat besides export demand seemed to be on the increase. After opening 1/4 to 3/4c higher the market scored some further upticks.

The close was steady at 3/4 to 5/8c cent net advance.

In oats, the governing influence was the strength of other cereals. Advantages, though, were not of a radical character.

WAR

Rumanian
Invade Bulgaria
London, Oct. 3.—The Rumanians have invaded Bulgaria.

On the upper reaches of the Danube between the fortified towns of Rustchuk and Turtukai, where the river begins its bend north-eastward, leaving Bulgarian territory and separating Rumania proper from Dobrudja, the troops of Rumania have made their way to the southern bank of the stream.

Just how many men were thrown across the river is not disclosed in either the Rumanian or German official communications but the strategic value of the maneuver seemingly is twofold.

Ninety miles eastward from Turtukai, which lies at the western extremity of southern Dobrudja, is Varna, Bulgaria's chief seaport on the Black sea. If sufficient men have been sent across the river and are sent along the Dobrudja-Bulgarian frontier toward Varna, not only would the seaport be in danger, but the move could constitute a serious menace along the isolation of the German, Bulgarian, and Turkish forces, operating against the Rumanians to the north.

Central Powers Lose
Simultaneously with the announcement of the crossing of the Danube comes a report from Bucharest that a fresh attack along the entire front in Dobrudja has resulted in the defeat of the center and right flanks of the troops of the Central Powers.

In Transylvania the Rumanians on both sides of the great Kukul river have advanced against the Teutonic allies, while westward in the vicinity of Orsova and near Petroscany, the Austro-Hungarians have captured positions from the Rumanians.

The fighting in Galicia, with Lemberg the stake, has resulted in success for the Teutonic allies northeast of the Galician capital and for the Russians in the south-east.

Sofia, Oct. 2.—(Via London, Oct. 3).—A retreat by the Bulgarians under heavy Serbian artillery fire is reported in an official statement issued by the war office referring to the Macedonian front. The statement says:

"Macedonian Front.—In the Lake Prespa region there was considerable artillery activity, with ordered infantry action at Hill 1944 south of Kaimakalan. As a consequence of violent artillery fire on the summit and in order to avoid loss our troops were ordered to withdraw to their main position in the Moglenia Valley. There was violent reciprocal artillery fire and east of the Vardar."

Weak artillery fire took place at the foot of the Belaschiza Mountain. A patrol engagement resulted in our favor near the Poraj Station.

On the Struma front enemy battalions which advanced under the protection of a hurricane of fire succeeded in occupying the villages of Karadzajoi, Jenikoi and Nevelvan. By counterattacks we drove the enemy from the two last named villages to their former positions. Fighting near Karadzajoi continues.

On the Aegean coast the enemy fleet bombarded Wolz, a height north of Ormoio.

In the Dobrudja two Russian divisions attempted twice to advance on the Bechaoui-Amaztia-Toprani Sari line but they were compelled to retreat under the fire of our artillery and infantry. There was quiet on the Black Sea coast."

Serbs Make Further Progress
Paris, Oct. 3.—The Serbians fighting in the Kaimakalan region on the Macedonian front have made further progress, according to today's war office announcement, taking first line trenches from the Bulgarians and capturing another battery.

Bulgarian attacks on British positions on the left bank of the Struma were repulsed, the Bulgarians sustaining heavy losses.

Violent Fighting On Somme Front

Paris, Oct. 3.—Violent fighting has been in progress on the Somme front north of Rancourt, the war office announced today. The French curtain of fire and machine guns, however, were effective in checking German attempts to debouch from the St. Pierre Vaast wood in this region.

Says Simple Remedy Prolonged His Life

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin Effective as a Remedy for Constipation.

Among older people the various organs of the body have a tendency to slow up and weaken, and this is usually first manifest in a pronounced inactivity of the bowels.

Good health is dependent on regularity in this important function; whenever there is the slightest indication of constipation a mild laxative should be taken to relieve the congestion and dispose of the accumulated waste. Cathartics or purgatives should not be employed, however; these are too violent in action and their effect is only temporary.

A mild laxative such as the combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin, known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, is the ideal remedy. It is gentle in its action, bringing relief in an easy natural manner, without griping or other pain or discomfort, is pleasant to the taste, and can be obtained in any drug store.

Mr. Robert LeForge, 918 Kirkwood Boulevard, Davenport, Iowa, says he has always had a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin in the house for the past eighteen years, and that by using it occasionally as the need arises, and in this way keeping his health good, it has prolonged his life, and brought ease and comfort.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is sold by druggists everywhere and costs only fifty cents a bottle. To avoid imitations and ineffective substitutes be sure to get Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. WAVERLY PRISONER ATTEMPTS
ESCAPE, IS SHOT BY MARSHAL

Marshal Charles Miller, of Waverly, fired three shots at Charles Walls, of Sargents, Tuesday afternoon, before he finally placed him under arrest on a charge of forgery. Walls went to Waverly on N. & W. No. 88 and had an N. & W. check cashed, which was for labor. Officers learned of his presence in town and just as he was ready to board No. 16 for his home he was arrested. As Miller climbed into an automobile Walls broke into a run. Miller fired three shots, the third one hitting Walls in the leg.

The warrant for Walls' arrest was sworn to by Charles Greenbaum and Steve Valley on September 27th. Walls is alleged to have forged checks for $10.00 and $5 on the two men. He signed the names of Myrd Clark and Art Fisher to the checks and made them payable to Clarence Brown. They were drawn on the First National Bank of Waverly.

Walls was locked up in Waverly last year on a charge of carrying concealed weapons.

TRY THIS TO BANISH ALL RHEUMATIC PAINS

People who have been tormented for years—yes, even so crippled that they were unable to help themselves—have been brought back to robust health through the mighty power of Rheuma.

Rheuma acts with speed; it brings in a few days the relief you have prayed for. It antagonizes the poisons that cause agony and pain in the joints and muscles and quickly the torturing soreness completely disappears.

It is a harmless remedy, but sure and certain, because it is one discovery that has forced the rheumatism and sciatica to yield and disappear.

Try a 50 cent bottle of Rheuma and if you do not get the joyful relief you expect, your money will be returned. Wurster Bros. always has a supply of Rheuma and guarantees it to you.

POLICE ARE

that policemen had been removed from the subway.

New York, Oct. 3.—Satisfied there is little further danger of violence in the subway as a result of the street railway strike, the police department today withdrew all policemen from strike duty on the underground trains. Since the strike began a policeman has ridden as guard in the first car of virtually every train. The policemen, however, will be kept on station platforms for a few days longer.

Similar action, it is announced, will be taken with regard to the elevated trains as soon as the police have routed the small bands of strikers and sympathizers who have boarded the trains from roof-tops in the early morning hours.

Only one policeman, instead of two, hereafter will be assigned to each surface car. Emergency stations established for mounted policemen when the general sympathetic strike was expected to materialize, have been abandoned.

The battleground of the turbulent element among the strikers has been transferred to Westchester county. The fight there centers in Mount Vernon, where an effort was made today to rescind the ordinance which prohibits the transit company from employing carmen who have not had fifteen days' experience as such. The street railway company asserts that this ordinance prevents them from operating their cars.

Shortly after announcement was made that police guards were to be removed from the elevated lines as well as the subway, three trains were attacked, one of them a Bronx subway express.

A bullet fired at a Third Avenue elevated train clipped a piece from the right ear of a passenger, Melville Wright, 40 years old, and fell to the floor after penetrating a motorman's booth.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 3.—The strike of employees of the United Traction company which yesterday completely tied up the local street car service, appeared unchanged early today. No effort had been made by the company to operate cars. Labor leaders appeared discouraged because of the action this morning of the Troy trolley men in joining the Albany union in striking.

NEW CONFERENCE YEAR TO MEAN
MUCH FOR WESLEY HALL MISSIONHerrick Says U. S. Has Lost Confidence Of The Nations Of Europe

(Special to Times)

Celina, O., Oct. 3.—The United States has lost the confidence of the nations of Europe and can only regain it by reinstating the Republican party in power and placing a Republican in the presidential office. This was the declaration made Tuesday by former Ambassador to France, Myron T. Herrick, Republican candidate for senator, in speeches at Rockford and Mendon, Ohio. Herrick declared the Democrats have demonstrated conclusively that they cannot manage the country affairs and that their lack of training in governmental management has placed the country in a sad way financially. Herrick spent Tuesday in campaigning through Mercer county. He spoke to good sized crowds at Rockford and Mendon and to over one thousand people at Celina. A large portion of Herrick's Tuesday speech was devoted to an appeal for the passage of a scientific tariff law. He warned his hearers of a crisis in the country's affairs to follow the close of the European war and predicted a period of depression unless Republicans were placed at the helm to insure a protective tariff measure. Such a tariff fixed after careful study by experts was needed to meet the strong trade competition of the European nations to follow the close of the war. Herrick was to speak at Bellefontaine Tuesday night and in Columbus Wednesday.

UPSET SAYS HENRY FORD

New York, Oct. 3.—Henry Ford, who took luncheon with President Wilson at Shadow Lawn yesterday, gave out the following significant statement upon his return to New York, last night: "I believe that President Wilson has solidly the independent vote of the country in his support as a result of the remarkable speech which he delivered on Saturday. It was a trenchant rallying cry to the men of conscience who are going to put aside party ties and vote for their own convictions on election day. The nation will be surprised by the numbers of these independent voters."

I am convinced that the November election will witness an upsetting of party lines unprecedented in the history of American politics. I was born a Republican you know and voted the Republican ticket for many years but I shall vote for Mr. Wilson in November.

GERMANY READY FOR TRADE WAR

New York, Oct. 3.—Germany will be ready for any trade war her enemies may wage against her after the end of hostilities in the field, says General Henry H. Morgan, United States consul at Hamburg, who has just returned from his post. The general said that Germany expects America to be her closest trade associate after the war and that German business men are confident there will then be only the most friendly business relations between the two nations.

taken by the Allies at their recent conference in Paris. But Germany expects to do a big business with America. Regardless of feelings that may have been engendered by the war Germany expects cordial trade relations with the United States.

"German bankers will be in a position after the war to assist trade development in the fullest measure," continued General Morgan. He said Germany had sent little money out of the country for war expenses as compared to what the Allies had sent to America and that the German store of gold will have a tendency to prevent any crippling of her ability to meet England in a struggle for world trade.

Gun Toter Who Had Threatened His Sister Held To Grand Jury

Henry Davis, a hoisting engineer, and son of Rev. George Davis, a Holy Roller preacher, formerly of Rushtown, was bound over to the grand jury by Mayor H. H. Kaps, Tuesday, for gun-toting. His bond was fixed at $200.

Davis had made a gun-play at the home of his sister, Mrs. James Hurley, of No. 1225 Fifteenth street, Monday evening. He had been drinking, and finding his sister had gone out and left her children in the care of a neighbor, Miss Minnie Francis, he picked up a gun and started on a hunt for her. Encountering her in the alley, he pressed the gun against her breast, threatening to shoot her, according to the story Mrs. Hurley told between sobs in court.

Miss Francis substantiated Mrs. Hurley's story, and Charles Luvrier, who was in the former's company told of how he had tried to keep Davis from taking the gun. Another loaded gun was also found on him when Officers Flowers and Templeman arrested him. He pleaded guilty to the charge and admitted knowing what the penalty is in this state.

It was in the late afternoon before the party arrived, and they separated upon the suggestion of Swabby who stated that he was reared in that neighborhood and knew every stone and fence for miles around.

At dusk Griver and Moritz saw they returned to the house and waited for Swabby. Distant shots were heard at even intervals and

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, weas, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, O. Office Phone 80.

MINNIE.
The position of the waistline is not definitely one thing. You may wear it raised, lowered or normal and still meet the most exacting demands of the vogue.

Dear Miss Wise—I am a girl of 25 and have no home of my own. I have been working in the factory but do not make enough money to save any. It takes all I make to pay my board, laundry and buy my clothes, what few I am able to afford. Now, Dolly, I was thinking of quitting the factory and getting a place in some private home, doing housework. I am a good cook and just love to keep house, but my friends say I will be looked down on if I do housework, and no one will associate with me. They also say servant girls are ill-treated by their employers. I have lots of friends and would hate to give them up. Still I can't make ends meet, much longer. What would you advise me to do? I hate to sit hunched up all day when I could get good exercise doing housework.

FACTORY GIRL.
There is nothing dishonorable about housework, and as you say it is much better exercise than much of the work which girls get into. There are a few ill-bred people in the world who do not know how to treat their employees, but you need not work under such people. Always remember that your life is your own and that there are thousands of good people in the world who need the help you have to offer and who will be glad to exchange a good home and wages for the services of a girl who is satisfactory. Here you have the opportunity to have a much better home than you can now afford. It is too bad that girls do not realize the advantages of housework where they can be associated with families from whom they can learn things which will supplement their home training.

Dear Miss Wise—I have an old afternoon dress of crepe de chine, which is not fit to wear as it is. Can you tell me of anything that I can combine it with to make it look like a new dress.

MRS. L. H.
You could get some Georgette crepe and combine the dress with that.

Dear Miss Wise—How could I clean a set of red fox furs at home? which is not fit to wear as it is.

MRS. W. M.
With a whisk broom, wet in alcohol until it drips, brush the fur until every hair is saturated down to the hide. While it is still wet sift in all the pulverized fuller's earth it will hold. The darker the earth the better. Cover to exclude dust and do not touch for two days. Then brush and heat out the powder and smooth the furs with a hot brush. Grime and grease will come out with the alkaline powder. The process will certainly clean them. Of course all the dust that clings to the furs must be well brushed out before they are wet, otherwise you have to get rid of a deposit of mud.

Dear Miss Wise—Are serge dresses going to be worn this winter? I need a dress that I can wear on the street as well as in the house in the fall, and I would like some suggestions as to material, style, etc.

DOROTHY.
The demand for serge dresses this winter has been one of the features of the fall costumes. Blue is the prevailing shade, and it is usually combined with beading or some of the new oriental embroidery. Plaids, too, have been seen; one particularly good-looking one was a combination of yellow and black in soft tones. The prevailing lines are loosely cut, and are often designed with an eye to combination of taffeta or some other heavy silk in the dress.

Miss Wise—Last spring we were renting a house from a man and planted a garden in the yard. Before the things were ripe he made us move by serving a notice on us. Couldn't we get damages from him because of losing this garden truck?

ITCHING ECZEMA FOR SIX MONTHS

Face and Body Covered with Blisters. Started to Spread. Child Very Cross and Could Not Sleep.

HEALED BY CUTICURA SOAP AND OINTMENT

"My niece suffered with itching eczema for nearly six months. Her face and body were covered with blisters which broke open and started to spread, and as soon as one blister opened a few days later more eczema would appear. Her face was so itchy that she could not look at the child and the child was very cross and could not sleep nights. 'Then I used Cuticura Soap and Ointment and after using two boxes of the Cuticura Ointment together with the Cuticura Soap she was entirely healed.' (Signed) Miss Thomas Baker, 2018 Cortland St., Chicago, Ill., Oct. 19, 1915.

Sample Each Free by Mail With 25-c. Skin Book as request. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston." Sold throughout the world.

HOW OLD ARE YOU BY YOUR HAIR?

You may be thirty in years, but if you are baldheaded or gray, people will surely take you to be many years older.

Dandruff is the root of most hair evils. If it were not for the little destructive germ working with a persistency worthy of a better cause there would be but little baldness, and less people prematurely gray.

Parisian Sage will help you to keep young looking and attractive.

It is guaranteed by Fisher & Streich to make hair grow and stop falling hair; to remove every bit of dandruff; to stop itching of the scalp almost instantly.

Parisian Sage is one of the most invigorating, satisfying and pleasant hair dressings made; it makes the hair soft, luxuriant and handsome; it is especially praised by women who love beautiful soft and lustrous hair. Parisian Sage is sold by druggists everywhere, and a large bottle never costs more than 50 cents.

Women's St. Regis Boots

Dainty two tone effects in lace boots. In the two-tone effect we present a style that is uncommonly attractive for autumn wear. The shoe has a vamp of black vici kid while the tops are of ivory kid; dainty leather Louis heels add to the finishing touches to these very clever boots. If you prefer all black kid or a patent vamp and black top in the 8-inch boots I have them also.

The Movies

Pauline Frederick in "The Woman in the Case" At the Lyric Tonight

Pauline Frederick, who is playing the devoted wife in the Famous Players adaptation of Clyde Fitch's "The Woman in the Case," says that it is a pleasant change to be defending her own husband against the machinations of another woman instead of being so often played her in "Bella Donna," "Zaza," "The Spider," "The Moment Before," and other productions in which she has starred on the Paramount program. "The Woman in the Case" will show the result of her struggles when it appears at the Lyric tonight.

House Peters in "The Rail Rider" At Lyric Tomorrow

When William A. Brady announced his decision to take charge of the production end of the World Film Corporation, and not put his name on a feature unless it really was a feature, very few people versed in the theatrical business, figured that this leading light of stagecraft would plunge right into the work and devote his time and energy to pictures. Nevertheless, that is just what Mr. Brady has done. Every day in the week, and sometimes Sundays, William A. Brady is in the World Film Studios, coat and hat off, working as hard as any director, player or scene shifter. William A. Brady has promised to give the photoplay world better motion pictures, and he is going to do just that thing. One of his latest personally supervised releases is "The Rail Rider," with House Peters and Zein Keefe, directed by Maurice Tourneur. It is a great improvement over many past releases, and is on a par with "The Closed Road," "La vie de Bohème," and other Brady-Made subjects. It will be shown at the Lyric theatre tomorrow.

Richard Travers at the Exhibit

Richard Travers, Essanay star features in "The Man Trail," the six act drama at the Exhibit today.

John Peabody, athletic, young, and sick of city life, visits his uncle's lumber camp and is put to work, although the uncle will not recognize him as a nephew. But when John wins a lumber-sawing contest and subdues a drunken brawl among the lumberjacks, the uncle is pleased and announces him as his nephew and as a future partner. John falls in love with Belle, an adopted daughter of the uncle, "Wolf John." A lumberjack, "Ball" Bart also is in love with her. Enraged at John's success in love making, "Ball" quits and goes to work for a rival concern. A duel in which John is victor ends with Belle admitting her love for him. Wednesday's five reeler "True Nobility."

"The Girl From Frisco" at Arcana Tonight

The fact that the sixth episode of "The Girl From Frisco" will be shown at the Arcana theatre tonight means that that theatre will be crowded from entrance to exit. This is without a doubt one of the greatest Indian serials ever shown. In addition to this big headline, Manager Potts will show three other strong plays. The first will be "The Treasure of Chibola." This is a two reel production and interesting and thrilling. This will be followed by one of those heart interest dramas "The Highway of Fate." The big program will come to a close with a side-splitting comedy, entitled "Some Medicine Man," a production that is guaranteed to put everybody in the best of humor. The program at the Arcana for tonight is away above par and you will miss something great if you fail to attend.

Temple Theatre Packed to Doors

That the people of the East End appreciate the movement of the management of the Temple theatre in reducing the price of admission to five cents, was conclusively demonstrated last night when the pretty little theatre was packed to the doors. And every person present was more than pleased with the excellence of the program, one of the best of the season. J. F. Potts, one of the owners of the Temple, announced that Harold Potts would from now on be in active management of the theatre and that he would follow along the same lines that had made the Arcana one of the most popular amusement houses in this section of the country. While last night's show was a splendid one, nevertheless the program for tonight will eclipse it by far. It consists of four distinct productions. First will be "A Young Cur." This will be followed by one of the most thrilling productions of the age, "A Race Through Air." A comedy, "One too Many" will follow and the big program will close with a feature play, "At the Doors of Doom." Remember the admission is only five cents to all. Come and see something good.

At The Strand

"Under the Lion's Paw" is a two part Bison number introducing a number of wild animals. The animal importer sells all his beasts but one lion. He releases the lion on the night his daughter is eloped with his superintendent. The life of the younger daughter becomes imperiled and the hero and girl save her from the lion. "The Finishing Touch" is a one part Imp drama. "Kate's Lover's Knot" is a Joker comedy featuring Gale Henry as a maiden lady in search of a husband.

Camera Is Broken

$256 Raised Tag Day; Miss Korth Gets Watch

"Tag Day," which was held during the second day of the Korn Carnival under the auspices of the Scioto County Anti-Tuberculosis League was a decided success. A total of $256 was collected. Miss Edna Korth was presented with a handsome gold wrist watch for collecting the largest amount. She took in $35.38.

Each year the league holds a "Tag Day," and all are given a chance to contribute to the fund. Every penny collected is devoted to paying the current expenses of maintaining a hospital and open air camp where treatment is given those afflicted with tuberculosis.

Mrs. George Grimes was chairman of the committee in charge of the arrangements for "Tag Day."

Going To Chicago

Felix Haas will leave Wednesday for Chicago, where he will visit the leading clothing stores. He expects to purchase all the latest in the novelty line and place an order for Christmas goods.

While in the Windy City Mr. Haas expects to place a big clothing order. He has enjoyed a splendid patronage and expects to keep his store right up to the minute, so far as late styles are concerned.

Hill Was Dismissed

John Ivan Hill, a local young man who was taken to Ironton a few days ago on suspicion of having broken into the N. & W. depot at Coal Grove a week ago Sunday was dismissed Monday and at once returned home. Persons who had seen a man enter the depot failed to identify Hill. Nothing was stolen from the depot although it was thoroughly ransacked.

BELIEVES IT WAS WORK OF AMATEURS

Arthur Bode is of the opinion that the robberies of Gallia street stores Monday night was the work of amateurs for two reasons. One is that the time selected was so early in the evening and from the fact that an effort was made to open the big safe in the Bode store with a key which was found.

How To Get Rid of Catarrh, Catarrhal Deafness or Head Noises

If you have catarrh, catarrhal deafness or head noises caused by catarrh or if phlegm drops in your throat and has caused catarrh of the stomach or bowels you will be glad to know that these distressing symptoms can be entirely overcome in many instances by the following treatment which you can easily prepare in your own home at little cost. Secure from your druggist 1 ounce of Peppermint (Double Strength). This will not cost you more than 75c. Take this home and add to it 1 1/2 pint of hot water and 4 ounces of granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day. A decided improvement is sometimes noticed after the first day's treatment. Breathing becomes easy; while the distressing head noises, headache, dullness cloudy thinking etc. gradually disappear under the tonic action of the treatment. Loss of smell, taste, defective hearing and mucous dripping in the back of the throat are other symptoms which suggest the presence of catarrh and which are often overcome by this efficacious treatment. Nearly ninety per cent of all ear troubles are said to be directly caused by catarrh; therefore, there must be many people whose hearing can be restored by this simple home treatment.

Taken To Athens

Mrs. Elizabeth McCann and daughter Miss Lola McCann were taken to the Athens state hospital Tuesday by Mrs. Earl Smith and Mrs. Bertha Shackelford. The mother and her daughter were adjudged insane at an inquest held Monday afternoon.

NEW BOSTON

New Boston Council

Council met in regular session Monday night with all members present. Dr. W. G. Cheney being present at his first meeting as a member. A petition from John W. Flood, J. E. Simpson and Burke Lawson asking for a sanitary sewer in the alley between Gallia pike and Lakeview avenue and water mains in Highland addition was referred to the street committee.

A petition was presented by the majority of property owners on Oak street asking that council take action in the matter of making five other property owners by sidewalks which will give five foot cement walks on both sides of the street. The engineer was instructed to bring in an estimate on the laying of the walks and the solicitor to bring in the necessary legislation.

A notice was received from Attorney George W. Sheppard, representing Louis Schomburg of Stewartsville who claims that a village improvement has washed out a drain on his lot and that water now stands on his property. He asks $200 damages. The matter was referred to the law and claims committee.

Bills amounting to $224.35 were allowed. A bill of $291 for fire hose bought from the Standard Supply company was held up until a test could be made of the hose.

Clerk Thomas O'Neal reported that the sinking fund trustees had decided to take the $1,000 bond issue to cover the village's cost of paving Rhodes avenue and Lakeview avenue in Millbrook addition. Bids on the paving contract are being advertised for and the

IF FOOD DISAGREES DRINK HOT WATER

When food lies like lead in the stomach and you have that uncomfortable, distended feeling, it is because of insufficient blood supply to the stomach, combined with acid and food fermentation. In such cases try the plan now followed in many hospitals and advised by many eminent physicians of taking a teaspoonful of pure bisaturated magnesia in half a glass of water, as hot as you can comfortably drink it. The hot water draws the blood to the stomach and the bisaturated magnesia, as any physician can tell you, instantly neutralizes the acid and stops the food fermentation. Try this simple plan and you will be astonished at the immediate feeling of relief and comfort that always follows the restoration of the normal process of digestion. People who find it inconvenient at times to secure hot water and travelers who are frequently obliged to take hasty meals poorly prepared, should always take two or three five-grain tablets of Bisaturated Magnesia after meals to prevent fermentation and neutralize the acid in their stomach.

Vine and Rhodes avenue. The structure is rapidly nearing completion.

Louis Klenne, of Wm. Canter's store, who spent Sunday in Cincinnati, is ill.

The interior of the fire department house has been covered with plaster board to make the place warmer and to keep loafers from climbing through the windows from the town hall into the room where the fire truck is kept.

John Cooper of Harrisonville avenue has purchased a lot in the Glenwood addition and will build a home there soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Krugg of Illinois are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Emory of Harrisonville avenue.

Thomas Harris is moving from Joe Hladik's property on Rhodes avenue to Charles Eppard's property on Center street and Rhodes avenue.

Wilma Emory, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Emory of Harrisonville avenue, is ill.

Clarence Patterson of Rhodes avenue, returned home Monday after spending a week with relatives in Virginia.

Mrs. Mae Waney and Miss Carrie Smith of Ironton, have returned home after spending several days with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Richardson of Rhodes avenue.

Miss Clara Henning, who is suffering with typhoid fever at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Ben Brown of Ohio avenue, is improving slowly.

The Jr. O. U. A. M. met last evening in their hall on Ohio avenue with most of the members present. Samuel Jenkins was initiated. The next meeting will be held next Monday evening and all members are urged to be present.

Much interest is taken in the revival meetings at the Baptist church. The subject Rev. W. H. Miller has chosen for tonight is "What Will You Do With Jesus?" Everybody cordially invited.

Complexion Fresh As a Daisy--Not a Wrinkle

in sight--Remarkable discovery of skin osmosis quickly enables women with sunken cheeks, wrinkles and marks of age again to become most beautiful, youthful and charming.

By Mlle. Marcix, France's Great Prize Beauty

It's wonderful to look beautiful and youthful. The Countess de Chevaline, who at seventy years of age possesses a marvellously soft, smooth, velvet-like skin

No matter what your age or what you have tried unsuccessfully, skin osmosis will positively bring you new beauty and youth. Simply wash your face in warm water at night and rub in a teaspoonful of two of any good pure roseated cream, which you can obtain from your druggist. In the morning wash the face with cold water and rub in more cream.

In three weeks or less watch the magic transformation. See how the old, hardened, coarse, rough skin turns into new, fresh, soft, youthful looking skin almost before your very eyes. All due to simple skin osmosis produced solely by warm water and roseated cream. As it is an entirely different thing from ordinary skin creams and ointments, you can be sure that it is a personally preferred French Traction (discovered), but any good brand will do. If you have wrinkles, age spots, freckles, pimples and use them in connection with the cream and you get quick action on the deepest wrinkles, no matter how long standing. In one night's time and awaken on the morning to witness most astonishing results.

I personally guarantee success in skin osmosis. I will refund the amount paid for any products which I recommend, provided you take your dealer's receipt at the time you make your purchase. My American address is: Mlle. Marcix, 9 West 2nd Street, New York.

W. C. T. U. Convention Will Be Held In Peerless

Appeal Taken In Damage Suit

An appeal in the case of Dora Justice against the Portsmouth Street Railroad and Light company, suit for damages for alleged injuries sustained, was filed in common pleas court by the defendant Tuesday.

The suit was brought in "Squire John W. Byron's" court to collect $300 damages alleged due for injuries sustained when the plaintiff fell from a street car. The bill of particulars states that on August 29, the plaintiff boarded a street car on Second street. Being a stranger she asked the conductor to put her off at the street where she could take the belt line to Sixth street.

She was carried past, she declares, and rang the bell at Eleventh and Hutchins street. Just as she went to alight from the car, she claims, the motorman started it and she was thrown to the street.

Judgment for $300 was given the plaintiff in "Squire Byron's" court.

Milner, Miller and Seal represents the defendant and Mark A. Crawford, the plaintiff.

Would Bet On Red Sox

A New York broker stated Monday that if Brooklyn won the National league pennant he would bet $500 to $1,000 that the Trolley Dodgers would not win a game from the Red Sox. Evidently said broker is an ardent admirer of Ban Johnson and his organization.

$14,000 FUTURITY IS ON LEXINGTON CARD

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 3.—The Kentucky Futurity for three year olds worth $14,000, the richest harness race in the world, was the principal event on the program for the second day of the Grand Circuit racing here today.

How Brooklyn Or Phils May Grab The Pennant

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 3.—Settlement of the championship title in the National league today is a possibility, but in order to bring about this result, Brooklyn must win from New York and Philadelphia must lose two games to Boston.

Ambition Pills

For Nervous People

The great nerve tonic—the famous Wendell's Ambition Pills—will put vigor, vim and vitality into nervous tired out, all in, despondent people in a few days.

Anyone can buy a box for only 50 cents, and Wurster Bros. are authorized by the maker to refund the purchase price if anyone is dissatisfied with the first box purchased.

Thousands praise them for general debility, nervous prostration, mental depression and unsteady nerves caused by over-indulgence in alcohol, tobacco, or overwork of any kind.

For any affliction of the nervous system Wendell's Ambition Pills are unsurpassed, while for hysteria, trembling and neuralgia they are simply splendid. Fifty cents at Wurster Bros., and dealers everywhere. Mail orders filled, charges prepaid by Wendell's Ambition Pills Co., Inc., Syracuse, N. Y.

Volga, the champion three year old filly was expected to be the favorite in that race. Others entered were Harwood Creek, Native Judge, Expressive Lou, Sangaree, Major, Siding, Binken, Binkara and Preston Burch.

Would Be Great Fight

St. Paul, Oct. 3.—Negotiations for a bout between Mike Gibbons and Jack Dillon are under way. It is proposed that they meet here about Nov. 1.

Brooklyn has three more games with New York and Philadelphia four with Boston. From a percentage standpoint if each team wins all of its games Brooklyn will lead by one point. If Brooklyn loses three games Philadelphia will have to break even to take the lead. If each team loses one game Brooklyn will lead by two points. If each team loses two games Brooklyn will lead by three points.

Indians Will Play Indians

Cleveland, Oct. 3.—The Carlisle Indians will play in Cleveland this fall, being scheduled for a game with the Cleveland Indians, a semi-professional football team. The game is to be played Oct. 8. Former Captain Fitzgerald of Notre Dame has signed with the local eleven.

A NEW WRINKLE

Muskegon, Mich., Oct. 3.—Muskegon baseball supporters have collected a fund which will be used to build a grand stand for children at the Central league baseball park. Children will be admitted free to this stand from the outside gate. Muskegon is the first team in the league to try to put through such a project.

Ashland Man Arrives Here To Institute Search For Daughter

The police received a message from Ashland, Ky., Monday afternoon, asking them to keep a lookout for and apprehend a girl answering to the name of Nellie Walton, a 16-year-old girl, who the message stated ran away from home. She and another girl, said to be Sadie Lawson, the message added, had come to Portsmouth to meet two men whose names were also furnished.

The police were unable to find the girls. The Walton girl's father, Henry Walton, arrived Monday evening to assist in the search.

Governor Lucas As A Bully

Robert Lucas, who was governor of the state from 1833 to 1836 inclusive, was something of a rowdy in his younger days. He came with his father to Scioto county out of Virginia in 1802, and was at that time of mature age. On the organization of the county the next year he was made its first surveyor, and took an active part in all that pertained to the county organization. He was specially interested in the organization of the militia and was the first brigadier general under it.

A major in the militia was heard to refer to General Lucas as a coward and he was promptly challenged by the general to a duel. The major accepted and chose broad-swords as the weapons, but by the time of the meeting friends had intervened and adjusted the matter. In 1810 the general was accused of a semi-criminal matter and a warrant procured for his arrest. He declined to answer the summons into court and announced vehemently that he would kill any officer who attempted to serve the writ of arrest upon him in that case.

Evidently believing that those were no idle words that General Lucas had uttered, the sheriff hesitated to attempt the arrest and presently resigned. The duties of the office of sheriff devolved upon the coroner, who happened to be at that time Major Munn, the very man whom the general had challenged to the duel nine years before; but Munn's valor seems to have come and gone like that of Rob Acres in the Rivals, for he also lost no time in resigning the office to which he had succeeded.

General Lucas then threatened to kill the clerk of the courts who had issued the writ and he resigned. It looked as though the general had them all bluffed. The court called upon volunteers who would pledge that if appointed to office in this emergency they would do their duty. A young school teacher took the office of clerk and issued a new writ, and Elijah Glover said he would arrest any man indicted, if made sheriff. They were appointed and Lucas seemed to have cooled down by that time for he quietly submitted to arrest. The only resistance came from his father-in-law, who was promptly knocked into a bed of Jimson weeds by the new sheriff.—Columbus Dispatch.

Blijah Glover referred to was a large land owner and prominent citizen for many years in Portsmouth. He was a school teacher, lawyer, sheriff, and editor and later a member of the state legislature and in his old days farmed his lands that extended from Gallia to Fourth street on Offshore and west to what is now Glover street. His old home removed and remodeled still stands in the vicinity where he spent so many years of his life. Numerous descendants still live in this vicinity and in California.

MIKE DONLIN MENTIONED

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 3.—Al Bridwell may not be the next manager of the Milwaukee team, in the American Association. Latest reports are that Mike Donlin, stage star, who lost his batting eye in his effort to pitch good ones across the footlights to vaudeville audiences, may be the Brewer chief. Timme, the Brewer owner, admitted today that he had three men on his list of possibilities, all from the Giants old roster, and that Donlin and Bridwell were among the three.

He was sent to St. Paul for seasoning, Pontius has charge of the innkeeper and his aggressive methods have won Scott's approval.

SHORE STARRED AT BIG COLLEGE

Ernest G. (Long) Shore, 25 years of age, learned his pitching feats at Guilford College of Fayetteville, N. C. John McGraw tried him out in 1912, but Shore, when released from the New York baseball club to Indianapolis, refused to carry out the plan. The next year McGraw reinstated Shore, who got an engagement with Baltimore, subsequently going to the Boston club. Shore pitched remarkable ball for the Red Sox in the 1915 World Series.

Portsmouth Made Splendid Impression On Guatemala Guests

Struck By Hospitality Of The Peerless People, Predict Possibility Of Better Trade Relations

That the official visit of Dr. Ramon Bengoechea, consul general of Guatemala, and his close personal friend, Dr. A. Guerra, native of Central America, will result in much good for Portsmouth, is the expressed hope of the committee who furnished such lavish and whole-hearted entertainment for the distinguished guests during their stay in Portsmouth, Korn Karnival week.

With nothing but praise for the hospitality of the generous people of Portsmouth, Messrs. Bengoechea and Guerra, left early Saturday morning for New York, where both gentlemen preside over busy offices, looking after the welfare of Guatemala, regarded by many as the leading republic of Central America—the home of an intelligent, progressive people, who will no doubt read glowing accounts of the Portsmouth visit from the fluent pens of Messrs. Bengoechea and Guerra, the latter being especially gifted as a writer, having filled the editor's chair on one of the most influential papers in the Republic of Colombia. Dr. Guerra, in addition to being a finished newspaper man, has written several books, which are to be found in the best selected libraries of the world.

Before leaving for New York City, both gentlemen were profuse in their thanks for the entertainment afforded them by the committee. They stated that such hospitality was a revelation to them. They came here, they said, primarily to see the great corn belt, as they supposed, would exist because they were led to believe that this section of the state was the greatest corn growing country in the United States.

The two words, "Korn Karnival," together with the warmth of the invitation sent by the advertising committee of the Karnival, brought them higher, they expected, to see little else than a diversified and mammoth industry, play of corn. Needless to add that while they were shown plenty of corn, that because the entire exhibition was not given over to a display of that cereal they were not disappointed in the least. They seemed to catch the spirit of the Karnival and enjoyed every moment of their stay. Particularly the splendid business houses and the good natured feeling that was rampant, and the two women in with them pleasant memories of the party. Mrs. Guerra and Mrs. Ramon Bengoechea, Jr., were especially impressed with the display of Portsmouth products with play of good fellowship, one of them remarking that it seemed like one great big happy family each person vying to see that he or she made the other happy.

The thoughtfulness of the entertainment committee, consisting of Orrin Oakes, Paul Esselborn, W. D. Gilliland, Albert Zoelner and Frank Knauss, in showing the visitors the "country round about," which included automobile trips through Scioto, Pike and Jackson counties, was deeply appreciated. It afforded the visitors a chance to see the well-kept farms, the huge corn fields, the orchards, herds of cattle, and incidentally, the splendid roads. They were impressed with all they saw and considered the auto trip alone worth the visit.

Their country, too, is a fertile one, and the visitors are much interested in agriculture. They were amazed at what they saw and enjoyed every moment of the motor journey.

But what impressed them most, perhaps, was the industrial life of Portsmouth. Neither of the gentlemen had ever been privileged to visit a shoe factory, shoe string factory or a steel plant. They had little, if any conception, of the way shoes were made or steel produced and they watched with eagerness the large armies of workmen as they performed their respective duties in a systematic and skillful manner.

As said before they were not together with the warmth of the invitation sent by the advertising committee of the Karnival, but genuinely surprised that a brought them higher, they expected, to see little else than a diversified and mammoth industry, play of corn. Needless to add that while they were shown plenty of corn, that because the entire exhibition was not given over to a display of that cereal they were not disappointed in the least. They seemed to catch the spirit of the Karnival and enjoyed every moment of their stay. Particularly the splendid business houses and the good natured feeling that was rampant, and the two women in with them pleasant memories of the party. Mrs. Guerra and Mrs. Ramon Bengoechea, Jr., were especially impressed with the display of Portsmouth products with reach Guatemala.

In fact Dr. Guerra stated that he believed the United States was destined to furnish Central America with steel, shoes and grain, in exchange for hides, tropical fruits and coffee. He stated that here, in the future England and Germany were the chief exporters to his country, which is a self-sustaining country. He stated that Guatemala held the balance of trade in 1915 by upwards of $1,000,000. He further said that he was greatly impressed with the fact when on a visit to officials he learned that $3,600,000 worth of imports had cleared the port at New York for the first six months of 1916. This is a vast increase over 1915.

He sees no reason why the United States should not supply Germany and England in furnishing exports to Guatemala. This, he said, would require some time and attention on the part of American manufacturers. This country will have to send representatives to Central America and let them learn first hand as to the wants of the people. He stated that the United States had been insistent in sending to his people what they thought they needed and never stop to learn what his people really wanted.

Germany sent forty trained men to Central America and they lived there for years. They found what the people wanted and they reported back to their government. The upshot of the matter was that Germany furnished 60 per cent of the imports to Guatemala. This, Dr. Guerra stated, could be furnished by the United States if more interest was taken in the needs of the people of Guatemala. In addition to this, much care must be exercised in preparing goods for shipment. They should be so freighted that they will stand all sorts of rough usages. They first go by steamer, then are transferred to railroads, then loaded in wagons and jolted over rough roads and then strapped to the backs of mules and carried over mountains to their destination. The goods are so packed in Germany and England that the damages done to the interior is less than 1 per cent while American prepared goods were almost wholly or partially destroyed.

Guatemala is the first republic south of Mexico and the home of 2,000,000 people. It consists of 65,000 square miles of table land and valleys. The capital of the republic is Nueva Guatemala, erected on the site of the old capital which was destroyed by an eruption more than a century ago. The capital has a population of about 100,000. 35 per cent of whom are of Spanish origin. The capital is situated about five thousand feet above sea level and has an average temperature of 60 degrees. The city is connected with a trunk railroad that runs from coast to coast and traverses a very fertile section of the country.

The republic of Guatemala raises the best coffee in the world. This will be gleaned at a glance when coffee in that country whole sales at 14 cents per pound while only 6 cents is asked for coffee raised in Brazil. In addition to raising coffee, Guatemala exports hides, tropical fruits and considerable grain.

The people of that country are contented and not so full of notions as the people of the United States. This will be appreciated when it becomes known that President Cabrera has held that office since 1894. They doubtless believe in letting well enough alone.

In order to gain the trade of Central America, Dr. Guerra claims that the United States should begin preparations now. It will, however, require persistent and intelligent efforts and a liberal amount of patience. Dr. Guerra, who was born in the United States of Colombia, is a great admirer and personal friend of Col. Theodore Roosevelt. He states that the people of his country would never forget the visit of Col. Roosevelt. The natives of his country like the dash and enthusiasm of a man of the type of the sage of Oyster Bay.

Dr. Bengoechea is a native of Guatemala, and this was his first trip to this section of the country. He stated before leaving that he never imagined that the country was so beautiful or the people so hospitable. He stated that he had come here on a strictly business visit, but that he was much impressed with the warmth of the hospitality shown him, and that he would ever kindly remember his visit to the Ohio Valley. Both he and Dr. Guerra paid their respects to Mayor Kaps, going to his office unattended and giving the chief executive an official farewell.

Messrs. Guerra and Bengoechea are cultured gentlemen. They are broad minded gentlemen who know what it is to be entertained and they will carry with them the fondest memories of their visit to Portsmouth's 1916 Korn Karnival.

REPUBLICANS WILL START CAMPAIGN FRIDAY NIGHT

The Republican campaign in this county will be formally launched Friday evening with a "Hip Hurrah" assembly and smoker, to be held at the Scioto County Republican club, Gallia street. Every Republican and Democrat in the county is extended a cordial welcome by the committee in charge.

Hon. Harry W. Miller will deliver the principal address. It is to be red hot and straight from the bat, with all the curves and kinks that are guaranteed to hold the interest of the audience, according to D. Willard Gustin, secretary of the Scioto County Republican Executive committee.

Congressman Charles C. Kharus, Batavia, is expected to attend and give a good old fashioned Republican speech, explaining national issues.

Smokes will be handed around at frequent intervals. Chairs have been provided for all and the hall has been well lighted and decorated.

The first of the "Hip Hurrah" meetings, which will be Friday evening, is only a forerunner of what is to come. Meetings are to be held every week and many prominent Republicans from out of the city will be secured to address the local electors upon the issues of the day.

The officials of the local organization say that this campaign

$725 Mogul S-16 $725 Kerosene-Burning Tractor

See the Grand Prize tractor at "The George Davis Farm", 5 miles north of Portsmouth on the Scioto Trail near Davis Station, Saturday, Oct. 7.

THERE are many good reasons why you should see this tractor in actual operation. The Mogul S-16 is an all-the-year-round, all-purpose tractor. Farmers in all sections of the country are now using it. Why? Because it does all kinds of work. It does the plain harrowing, disk, and drilling. During harvest and haying it pulls binders, mowers, a hay loader, etc. It does the hauling, drags the road, in fact, nearly everything that horses are used for. So far, we have only told you the half. There is also the ball work, grinding feed, pumping water, threshing, filling the silo, shelling and shredding corn, etc. It does all these and more too. Be sure to see the Mogul S-16, the successful kerosene-burning tractor. This feature will cut your fuel bills nearly in half. Find out how simple the Mogul S-16 is, how easy to operate, see the big points that have already sold thousands.

RUMANIANS INVADE BULGARIA

MILK WAR SPREADS IN NEW YORK

STRATEGIC MANEUVER AGAINST GERMAN ALLIES MADE ON UPPER DANUBE

London, Oct. 3.—The Rumanians have invaded Bulgaria. On the upper reaches of the Danube between the fortified towns of Rustchuk and Turtukai, where the river begins its bend north-eastward, leaving Bulgarian territory and separating Rumania proper from Dobrudja, the troops of Rumania have made their way to the southern bank of the stream.

Just how many men were thrown across the river is not disclosed in either the Rumanian or German official communications but the strategic value of the maneuver seemingly is twofold.

Ninety miles eastward from Turtukai, which lies at the western extremity of southern Dobrudja, is Varna, Bulgaria's chief seaport on the Black sea. If sufficient men have been sent across the river and are sent along the Dobrudja-Bulgarian frontier toward Varna, not only would the seaport be in danger, but the move could constitute a serious menace along the isolation of the German, Bulgarian, and Turkish forces, operating against the Rumanians to the north.

Central Powers Lose

Simultaneously with the announcement of the crossing of the Danube comes a report from Bucharest that a fresh attack along the entire front in Dobrudja has resulted in the defeat of the center and right flanks of the troops of the Central Powers.

In Transylvania the Rumanians on both sides of the great Kukul river have advanced against the Teutonic allies, while westward in the vicinity of Orsova and near Petroseraj, the Austro-Hungarian have captured positions from the Rumanians.

The fighting in Galicia, with Lemberg the stake, has resulted in success for the Teutonic allies northeast of the Galician capital and for the Russians in the south-east.

The Diplomat

"Were you, honeymooning while I was away, Bertam, dear?" asked his wife when she returned from her visit to her mother.

"Yes, love, I was dreadfully homesick," replied Bertam dutifully.

"But, why didn't you write to me often? I had only two letters from you the whole time I was away."

"Well, you see, my dear, I tried to write you, but I couldn't make the letters sound cheerful, and I was afraid you'd discover how lonesome I was and come right home. I wouldn't have spoiled your visit for the world, love."

And he really thought she believed him.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

POLICEMEN WITHDRAWN FROM STRIKE DUTY ON ALL UNDERGROUND TRAINS IN N. Y.

New York, Oct. 3.—Satisfied there is little further danger of violence in the subway as a result of the street railway strike, the police department today withdrew all policemen from strike duty on the underground trains. Since the strike began a policeman has ridden as guard in the first car of virtually every train. The policemen, however, will be kept on station platforms for a few days longer.

Similar action, it is announced, will be taken with regard to the elevated trains as soon as the police have routed the small bands of strikers and sympathizers who have bombarded the trains from roof-tops in the early morning hours.

Only one policeman, instead of two, hereafter will be assigned to each surface car. Emergency stations established for mounted policemen when the general sympathetic strike was expected to materialize, have been abandoned.

The battleground of the turbulent element among the strikers has been transferred to Westchester county. The fight there centers in Mount Vernon, where an effort was made today to rescind the ordinance which prohibits the transit company from employing carmen who have not had fifteen days' experience as such. The street railway company asserts that this ordinance prevents them from operating their cars.

Shortly after announcement was made that police guards were to be removed from the elevated lines as well as the subway, three trains were attacked, one of them a Bronx subway express.

A bullet fired at a Third avenue elevated train clipped a piece from the right ear of a passenger, Melville Wright, 40 years old, and fell to the floor after penetrating a motorist's booth.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 3.—The strike of employees of the United Traction company which yesterday completely tied up the local street car service, appeared unchanged early today. No effort had been made by the company to operate cars. Labor leaders appeared discouraged because of the action this morning of the Troy trolley men in joining the Albany union in striking.

GERMANY READY FOR TRADE WAR

New York, Oct. 3.—Germany taken by the Allies at their recent conference in Paris. But Germany expects to do a big business with America. Regardless of the feelings that may have been engendered by the war Germany expects cordial trade relations with the United States.

"German bankers will be in a position after the war to assist trade development in the fullest measure," continued General Morgan. He said Germany had sent little money out of the country for war expenses as compared to what the Allies had sent. He said the German government had a tendency to prevent any crippling of her restrictions," he said, "Germany has not been blind to the action struggle for world trade."

THOUSANDS OF GALLONS OF MILK ARE SPILLED AS RESULT OF COMBATS

New York, Oct. 3.—The New York state farmers tightened their grip today on the milk supply and caused a further reduction in quantity supplied to this city. The farmers are holding back the production of their dairies to compel the big distributors to pay higher prices.

The milk war which originated with the organization of the Dairywomen's League, has spread throughout the state. Reports from all parts of New York tell of thousands of gallons of milk spilled in combats between the dairymen and the employees of the distributors, the picketing of cross roads in dairy districts, farmers held up and beaten, and the establishment of cheese manufacturing factories to dispose of the surplus resulting from the withholding of New York City's supply.

Twenty deputies have been sworn in Dutchess county to prevent raids of farmers upon their neighbors to compel them to hold back their product. This followed an attack on one man who was severely beaten while the deputy sheriff who accompanied him was held a prisoner, tied to a tree. Anxious farmers are reported to be patrolling the roads in several counties up-state, seizing milk and dumping it. In some places the farmers are contributing funds to build co-operative creameries.

John D. Dillon, the state commissioner of foods and markets, who represents the league of farmers, estimates that not more than 25 percent of the normal amount of milk was shipped into New York City for use today. City distributors claimed they had received about sixty percent of the 2,500,000 gallons required daily. Thus far the shortage has not affected the city hospitals.

The health authorities early today made good their assertion that inspection rules would not be modified on account of the milk famine by refusing to admit ten thousand gallons from Newport, New York, on the ground that it was not pasteurized.

WANT TO OBSERVE THANKSGIVING DAY ON NOVEMBER 23

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 3.—A movement to place the next Thanksgiving Day on November 23 instead of November 30, was inaugurated here today by the Merchants' Association of Kansas City. A telegram, signed by the executive board of the organization, was sent to President Wilson requesting the earlier date. Messages to retail organizations in twenty of the larger cities also were sent asking them to take similar action. The merchants say the holiday falling as it does this year, on the last of the month, works a hardship both to them and to their customers, crowding all the Christmas business into three weeks.

Hughes Envoys Are To Speak In Cleveland

Cleveland, O., Oct. 3.—Twenty-five women who have distinguished themselves in the world's work, will arrive in Cleveland this evening when the Women's Hughes campaign train makes its first Ohio stop. The Hughes envoys will hold a mass meeting for men and women. Owing to limited time, the only speakers may be Dr. Katherine Bennett Davis, former commissioner of correction in New York, and Mrs. Nelson O'Shaughnessy, wife of the former American charge d'affaires in Mexico. Requests have been sent to the Hughes headquarters in New York, asking that Mrs. Maud Howe Elliott, Mrs. Rheta Dorr and Miss Helen Varick Post be included in the list of speakers.

How Brooklyn Or Phils May Grab The Pennant

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 2.—Settlement of the championship title in the National League today is a possibility, but in order to bring about this result, Brooklyn must win from New York and Philadelphia must lose two games to Boston.

This result would give Brooklyn 93 victories and 50 defeats, 49 victories and 61 defeats for Philadelphia.

Ambition Pills

For Nervous People

The great nerve tonic—the famous Wendell's Ambition Pills—that will put vigor, vim and vitality into nervous tired out, all in, despondent people in a few days.

Anyone can buy a box for only 50 cents, and Wurster Bros. are authorized by the maker to refund the purchase price if anyone is dissatisfied with the first box purchased.

Thousands praise them for general debility, nervous prostration, mental depression and unsteady nerves caused by over-indulgence in alcohol, tobacco, or overwork of any kind.

For any affliction of the nervous system Wendell's Ambition Pills are unsurpassed, while for hysteria, trembling and neuralgia they are simply splendid. Fifty cents at Wurster Bros., and dealers everywhere. Mail orders filled, charges prepaid by Wendell Pharmaceutical Co. Inc., Syracuse, N. Y.

Volga, the champion three year old filly was expected to be the favorite in that race. Others entered were Harrods Creek, Native Judge, Expressive Lou, Sangre, Maja, Solidine, Binken, Binkara and Preston Burch.

By winning their two remaining games the champions would still be short, even if Brooklyn lost two. Should Brooklyn win the next three games there would be no chance for Philadelphia to catch up.

Brooklyn has three more games with New York and Philadelphia four with Boston. From a percentage standpoint if each team wins all of its games Brooklyn will lead by one point. If Brooklyn loses three games Philadelphia will have to break even to take the lead. If each team loses one game Brooklyn will lead by two points. If each team loses two games Brooklyn will lead by three points.

Crazy, but Rich.
Some years ago a man was arrested on the ground of insanity. His filthy dwelling was searched. Even the wall paper was lined inside with bank notes. A kitchen copper was the store place of thousands of old bank bills. The grate was filled with silver and copper coins. Jars and bottles were crammed with pennies he had collected on the streets. When the treasure was counted it totaled £25,000, and another £5,000 was in a bank!—London Tit-Bits.

"The Lagoon"

The famous work "The Lagoon" was modeled by the great artist of Rhodes about A. D. 70. It represents the death of the Trojan hero Lagoon, priest of Neptune, and his two sons, as described by Vergil. It was discovered near Rome in 1596 and purchased by Pope Julius II. It is now in the Vatican. "The Lagoon," like "Hamlet," has provoked a world of comment, but all agree that it is one of the masterpieces of artistic expression.—New York American.

Mazzini's Bible

The "Mazzini Bible" is so called because the first copy described was found in the library of Cardinal Mazzini at Paris in 1700. It was printed by Gutenberg between 1450 and 1455 and was the first complete book ever printed from movable type. Its distinction is not in any peculiarity of text, but in the fact that it was the first book of any kind so printed under the personal supervision of Gutenberg, the inventor of printing. There are known to exist twenty-six copies, worth from $15,000 to $20,000 each.

Greatest enemies of your TEETH

—are Pyorrhea and decay.

Both usually develop only in the mouth where germ-laden tartar is present.

"But I brush my teeth," you say: Yes, you brush them, but do you REALLY CLEAN them?

Tonight, after brushing your teeth, go to the mirror and examine them. In all probability you will find an accumulation of tartar on the enamel and bits of food deposit hiding in the crevices.

Senreco, the formula of a dental specialist, REALLY CLEANS. It embodies specially prepared, soluble granules unusually effective in cleaning away food deposits. Moreover, it is particularly destructive to the germ of Pyorrhea.

Go to your dealer today and get a tube of Senreco—keep your teeth REALLY CLEAN and protect yourself against Pyorrhea and decay.

Send 4c to Senreco, 304 Walnut Street, Cincinnati, Ohio, for trial package.

THE GOLDEN TIDE

If you are fond of figuring you could make some interesting data by taking out your pencil and making calculations on the foreign trade of these United States. For instance, our exports for the first nine months of the year indicate the trade balance in our favor for 1916 will be two and a half billion dollars. How much does that make to every living soul in the country? How many miles high would be the pyramid that might be built of that many gold dollars piled on top of each other?

Contrary to general impression it is not munitions of war that make the volume of our exports, though, undeniably, the war has a great deal to do with the increase thereof. Wheat, corn and meat make an imposing bulk in the way of food supplies for man, but oats do not make a considerable showing when it comes to animal feed. A singular fact is that we should send such enormous consignments of meat to Europe and then turn around, as it were, and buy meat for our own consumption from Argentina, though nothing in comparison to what we ship out. It is the variety, quite as much as the volume, of foreign purchases that makes the trade so valuable, so effective in enhancing prosperity. For the reason that there is a unity of development along the whole line of productivity, a demand for every surplus. This demand does not come from Europe alone. There are many other countries than ours enjoying unwonted good times and they are making good customers for America, they are large and appreciated contributors to our agricultural and industrial welfare. China takes our cotton, Africa, Norway and Sweden, Spain, parts of Asia and all of South and Central America varied products. They all would take far more if we operated anything like adequate shipping facilities. Now more than ever is the commercial crime apparent that the United States has, ever since the imposition of a protective tariff, failed to encourage American ship building and owning. If there were but American ships to sail to peaceful port this country would be assured a continuous prosperity beside which the present would seem meagre. Appreciating this fact, the last congress passed a measure by which it is hoped to supply the mediums of transportation, but whether it will operate with sufficient rapidity to properly equip us by the end of the European war is problematical to hope the best of it.

Once in awhile a newspaper chirrup Herriek should be elected senator because he lost his job as minister to France. That raises the question: Didn't somebody lose his job when Herriek got the appointment to France and what was he elected to?

They couldn't make the act jump, so the Republican spellbinders have begun gnawing away at the eight-hour a day law in concert.

It hasn't been narrated yet, that any one has shouted at Candidate Hughes, "where did you get that hat" as a reminder of his decision in the Danbury haters case.

An exchange has an article on Rumanian possibilities. It does not refer to their speed in moving backwards.

Somehow Carnival week seems to have got the habit of running into a bad spell of weather.

It is quite natural poor old Chillicothe should yellow with envy when she sees this Peerless young metropolis of the Scioto valley entertaining the envoy of the honorable president of Guatemala. And there was some entertaining, let us tell you.

If some diligent reporter were to gather up the receipts of the lunch stands he might give us some appreciation of the American appetite.

Nothing is lost by everybody going on a frolic. It may cause inconvenience at the time, but in the long run it is wholesome.

The boy who raised 400 pounds of potatoes from eight pound of seeds merely shows what Scioto county soil can do when it is treated earnestly.

The stump-speakers are a-stumping all around us, so we might just as well resign ourselves to the inevitable and look for them in our esteemed midst before long.

Austria seems to be of the kind that the longer it goes the better it grows. She is bearing her part in the conflict more creditably now than she did in the early stages.

THE SAME SUBJECT UPON DIFFERENT OCCASIONS

THE BEGINNING OF AN ERA

The entering into a convention by the United States and Canada by which they mutual agree to protect wild fowl that migrate, according to the season, from one country to the other, is the first effective step to that altogether desirable end. The slaughter of birds has been ruthless and ruinous. Many species have become practically extinct and the rapidity with which all are being reduced in numbers, means certain extermination of the feathered tribe, if no early check be imposed.

Extirpation of wild birds is wanton and in most instances disastrous, because many of those slain are not used for food and their absence tends to the increase of the destructive of all sorts on insects that prey upon growing crops. Some statisticians estimate the damages done annually to vegetables, fruits and grain by insects amounts to $800,000. Probably, this is excessive, but anyway it gives an idea of the ravages of small pests, of which birds are the best of all destroyers. Recognizing this condition, appreciating the fact that bird also add to the gladness of existence quite every state has passed laws, that if enforced, would promote their preservation. We all know, however, that state statutes are too frequently non-enforced. Such has been the case with the bird laws. They have worked no appreciable benefit. The federal government, though, has a better way of seeing its laws are better kept and really much may be hoped for by the agreement with Canada.

We believe the Colonel is telling how he would have slaughtered 'em had he been president when the Lusitania was sunk, and incidentally ringing in something about preparedness. Let's look into that a bit. The British chief of ordinance says the most effective weapon the Allies have in offense is the Lewis gun. This gun was invented by a retired American officer, whose name it bears, and, in 1910, was offered to the United States government for nothing. It was not only refused but condemned as of no value. The inventor then sold it to the British government. Who made the president and the administration of 1910?

Pride must have its fall. Attorney Anderson tells this story: On one of the days that the Carnival was in full swing, he met, out on the Scioto Trail, an auto headed in the direction of Columbus. The occupants hailed him and asked him if he could tell where Portsmouth was. He told them the town lay two or three miles behind them. "Why, that's strange," said one, "we came on here from Sciotoville and we didn't see any thing that looked like a town."

By-the-way, there was a fair grape exhibit at the Carnival. Enough in quantity and quality to show they could be raised in Scioto county.

Policeman Billy Brings A Friend

"He must know everybody in this whole country," remarked Father Beaver as he looked after Policeman Billy. "He didn't even have to stop and think who he might bring to our party!"

"I wonder what we ought to do?" asked Bushy thoughtfully. Of course he wanted to be polite, like his mother had taught him to be. But, dear me! when you're at a party and you have a nice piled-up plate of honey and berries, you don't want to wait all night for somebody who may be coming.

"I'll tell you what you may do, Bushy," said his mother. "You wait till the moon has passed that branch it is now behind. If Policeman Billy is not back by then, you may eat." So Bushy settled himself down to watch for the moon to peep out from behind that branch—he didn't intend to wait one second longer than he had to—not he!

But in no time at all Policeman Billy was back, and who do you suppose he brought with him? A gray squirrel! The prettiest, pleasantest little gray squirrel the beavers had ever seen. "Let me introduce you to my friend, Graytail," said Policeman Billy. "I told him you would like him to come to your party."

"Of course we do," replied Mother Beaver heartily. "We're just more than glad to have you here. Sit right down there," she motioned to the vacant place. "And Policeman Billy, you sit there where you started to sit before. Now, then, I guess we're ready to eat."

There wasn't much talking for a few minutes after that—no sir!—When the table is piled up with good things, and you are starving hungry, do you sit around and talk? You do not—and neither did the beavers. Finally everything was eaten up. Fortunately there had been plenty.

So Bushy settled himself down to watch for the moon to peep out from behind that branch

so that when the food was all gone, the guests found their hunger gone at the same minute. That was lucky, wasn't it? Father Beaver wiped off the last trace of honey from his mouth, and as he did so, an idea occurred to him. Mother Beaver had thought of a party and it had been a success. Why shouldn't he think of something new and wonderful and surprise everyone? Well, why shouldn't he?

To-morrow—Father Beaver's Idea

SECRETS OF COMFORT.

Though sometimes afflict evils, like invisible insects, inflame pain and a single hair may stop a vast machine, yet the chief secret of comfort lies in not suffering trifles to vex one and in prudently cultivating an undergrowth of small pleasures, since very few great ones, alas, are let on long leases.

NEW-YORK-DAY-BY-DAY.

O-O-MEINTYRE.

New York, Oct. 3.—It was an innocent looking car—dark green in color—and chock full of cylinders. Copeland Townsend, who owns it, lured me from my typewriter to bowl along the Westchester roads. I silently besought Providence to forget the Kaiser a little while and look out after us, and Mr. Townsend stepped on something and we were off like the crack of a gun.

Generally when I go motoring there is an optimist in the party who

NOT GUILTY HERE

There are broad and generous assurances offered that no trust is responsible for the high price of meat. This ill, if we may so class it, is but another evil result of the war. An army fights on its stomach and the Allies, apparently, are prudent in seeing their soldiers have an ample stomach, at least the food to fill one, so they have bought and are buying plentiful supplies from this country. So far this year they have taken around a billion and a half pounds of beef, to say nothing of pork, which is thought to put a better stomach on a fighter than beef. This is ten times more than was sent to these countries in any one year prior to the war, and coupling this with the fact, that in five years the number of heads of cattle decreased by more than 27,000,000 it is easy to comprehend why beef soars.

They are still at it over in Europe, one side achieving overwhelming victories and the other administering crushing defeats. One thing is certain, neither can stand it forever.

There are two handfuls of apples for every man, woman and child in the United States, but, notwithstanding, the generosity of the exhibitors of the Korn Carnival our pro rata does not appear in sight.

When it comes to weather we don't know where you would go to find more like this now bathing this particular portion of the vineyard in a wondrous glow.

We were going to say the Cincinnati Reds landed last in the National League, but there may be some dispute as to that since they and St. Louis are tied for the cellar championship.

as smooth as the floor in Mr. Townsend's ballroom at his hotel.

And then all of a sudden the car slowed down, gave a few gasps like the stricken hero in a melodrama and became as silent as a New York rooster when the Giants are losing.

"Something is wrong," remarked Mr. Townsend with rare powers of perception.

"Evidently," I said. "Perhaps it's the whopplechoke"—this to be facetious.

And then Mr. Townsend slid under the car, pulled a couple of bell-ropes, screwed up the dingbat and loosened the whizzledwhiz. "It is all right now," he said with the air that Alexander must have assumed when he did his last bit of world conquering. "Jump in and we will be off."

"We jumped in but we didn't budge. The reason was simple. The gasoline tank was dry and the nearest garage was four miles away and that wasn't such a tragedy, but Mr. Townsend felt like he should remain and look out after the car."

Fat girl ushers have been teebored at New York theatres. The Shuberts have sent out the following notices to all the managers of their theatres: "In engaging ushers in the future, please eliminate all girls who are too big and heavy. You should have girls with trim figures. Appearance is almost as desirable as service."

The dance, "London Taps," which Vernon Castle introduced between flying in his aeroplane and drinking tea in London has brought forth a newspaper controversy as palpating as the question of just who it was that struck poor Billy Patterson.

A new dancing place, "Les Fleurs," put on the dance last week and claimed it as its own. Mrs. Evelyn Hubble, of Castle House, who just returned from London recently, claims that she introduced the dance at a party given by August Belmont on the Majestic roof early this summer.

Clifton Webb introduced the dance "Les Fleurs" and Mrs. Hubble took him to task about it—and now all the dancers are watching on the sidelines. The dance is an interpolation of the fox trot and is executed by tapping the feet on the dancing floor for several measures while the music stops.

A crate of ducks were being driven down Fifth avenue the other afternoon. A militant duck would stick his head out of the crate to answer with stentorian quack the honk of an automobile on the other side of the street and the avenue was greatly amused.

Grandma's Bonnet

Grandma used to wear a bonnet. With but very little on it. Not a single peacock feather. Flopped or fluttered in the weather.

Five foot brims were not in order. Nor the hanging curtain border. Ostrich plumes that cost full twenty. Were not then so very plenty. Stuffed flamingoes, embalmed parrots,

Turnips renabagas, carrots, Grape and apple imitations, Were not used as decorations. Grandma's hat did not disguise her. You could always recognize her—So we dedicate this sonnet. To the modest little bonnet.

Each succeeding generation Makes us love grandma's creation. Women's hat keep growing bigger.

And they cut more of a figure. Loved ones' faces, all concealing, Not an eye or nose revealing. Man can't pick his wife or cousin

On the street out of a dozen. He is very oft mistaken And his nerves are badly shaken

When he elevates his eady To some strange offended lady, And she glares until to him it Seems to be about the limit.

Wife's new hat has too much on it. Ah, for that old grandma bonnet. —Exchange.

Some Maid, This

A Lakewood lady writes us a story about her maid. The story is too long to print, but we can't pass up the introduction. She says:

"Alice is a jewel among maids. She is up and has all her work done and all the beds made before anybody else in the house arises."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

So We Learned Recently

It may be you have noticed that after meeting a great man you discover his reputation is three or four times greater than he is.

Disputing

She—"How pale the moon is!" He—"Yes, it's been out late for several nights."

Natural Supposition.

The kindergarten had been studying the wind all the week—its power, effects, etc.—until the subject was pretty well exhausted. To stimulate interest the kindergarten said in her most enthusiastic manner:

"Children, as I came to school today in the trolley car the door opened and something came softly in and kissed me on the cheek. What do you think it was?"

And the children joyfully answered "The conductor!"—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

Surprised the Seer

The stranger was ushered into the society palmist's presence. "Ah, you wish my aid?" said the great seer.

"Well, madam," said the visitor, "in a way I do. You see, I've just call—"

"Certainly. I know all about it. Just sit here. Ah, I see you have met with various disappointments lately."

"Quite true," interrupted the caller.

"Hush! Let me go on. Something which you have written for and striven hard to get has eluded you time and again."

"Right you are," murmured the victim.

"But patience. Your end will be attained in the near future. Success is yours."

"I'm sure I'm very glad to hear it, madam," said the subject, as he flourished a blue paper. "I've called five times with the gas bill. It's a good thing I'm to get it at last."—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

Speaking of Cows

Switzerland has 796,909 cows.—Exchange. Which have (presumably) 769,909 tails, 1,693,818 horns, and 3,187,636 teats. We just date on animal statistics.—Gallipolis Tribune.

Hard To Find

Miss Smith was known to her boarders as being decidedly "near" in the portion of food she doled out to the ones at her table.

At dinner, the other night, wishing to be polite to a new boarder, she asked:

"How do you find the steak this evening, Mr. Finley?" "By turning my potato over," replied the boarder quickly.—Exchange.
